

WHO'LL BE NEW MAYOR?

BOY KILLS BABE WITH SHOTGUN

14-Year-Old Lad Shoots Playmate --- Father of Slain Child Insane.

SAN FRANCISCO, June 18.—Archie Diller, three years old, son of A. Diller of No. 1405 Divisadero street, was shot and instantly killed by Arnold Wihs, a fourteen-year-old youth, at 9 o'clock this morning. Young Wihs was cleaning a shotgun and in some way the trigger was pulled.

The full contents of a shell of buckshot entered the lad's body, killing him instantly.

Young Wihs was placed under arrest on a charge of manslaughter. He declares it was all an accident.

At the time of the shooting Edna Wihs, another child with a brother of the slain boy, were in a swing. Neither were injured.

The father of the young boy killed was almost prostrated with grief and followed the remains to the morgue, where he created a scene. The whole neighborhood was aroused by the accident.

DECLARES REVENGE ORCHARD'S MOTIVE

Prosecution to Call Witnesses to Prove Slayer Killed Steunenberg for Personal Reasons.

BOISE, June 18.—Court adjourned at 11:30 until 1:30 p. m.

BOISE, Idaho, June 18.—All the members of the Haywood family were in the seats near the prison when the case against William D. Haywood was resumed at 9:30 a. m. this morning in the Ada county district court. During the intermission since the adjournment on Saturday a large number of witnesses have arrived in Boise. The courtroom was only about half filled, however, at the time court opened.

T. Nichols, who was deputy sheriff of Canyon county and in charge of the jail at Caldwell at the time of Orchard's arrest after the murder of former Governor Steunenberg, was called to the stand. Orchard, in his statement on the stand, said that while in the jail at Caldwell he received a letter from Pettibone. The original of the letter was destroyed by Orchard, but Nichols made a copy of it before giving it to Orchard.

A copy of the telegram was produced and identified by the witness. Nichols was proceeding to tell of a conversation with Miller when the defense raised objection after objection, and after argument the testimony was admitted. Nichols said that Miller had told him that money sent to Orchard should be turned over to Miller as his attorney.

ORCHARD RECALLED.

Nichols was allowed to go without any cross-examination, and Harry Orchard was recalled.

The notorious prisoner-witness entered the court room through a door leading to the judge's room. His appearance created none of the interest that marked his first entry into court. He came in with his customary brisk step and preceded and followed by deputies and "gun men."

E. F. Richardson at once commenced the cross-examination. It became evident that the defense proposed to bring a number of witnesses to prove that Orchard had for years nursed a venomous spite against Steunenberg and had repeatedly made threats against him.

WIFE OF IOWA JURIST ARRESTED; IS HEAD OF RELIGIOUS SECT THAT SHOCKS STATE

CHICAGO, June 18.—A dispatch to the Tribune from Des Moines, Iowa, says Mrs. Scott M. Ladd, wife of Justice Ladd of the Iowa Supreme Court, was arrested here last night for disturbing the peace at the peculiar religious services over which she presides.

All religious services which Mrs. Ladd has been conducting the devotees write on the floor like epileptics, leap into the air, chatter, scream, gnash their teeth or beat themselves over the head.

State religious circles of Des Moines have been profoundly shocked by the revelations concerning this peculiar religion.

"Do you know Max Melich, of Denver?" asked Richardson.

"Yes, sir."

"Did you in June or July of 1905 say to Max Melich, you and he being alone, that you were going to kill Steunenberg even if you had to swing for it?"

"No, sir, I never had any such conversation."

Senator Borah asked if he couldn't place the time closer to June or July, 1905.

"No man can fix the exact day of such an occurrence," said Richardson hotly.

TO CALL MAX MELICH.

"We will have Max Melich here and he may fit it for you, but it is not likely that he can give you the day of the conversation."

"Did you say that Steunenberg was a mean man, and that had it not been for Steunenberg you would have been a millionaire, because you had owned a sixth share of the Hercules mine and that Steunenberg had driven you out of the State?"

"No, sir, I never said any such thing."

Orchard was very positive in his replies and showed no hesitation.

Richardson asked him if he knew Lottie Day of Denver and remembered moving her in a room at the Belmont hotel and telling her that he intended to kill Steunenberg. This also Orchard denied.

Orchard was asked if he had not made similar threats in the hearing and presence of "Kid" Waters of Cripple Creek, and others. He was asked if he had not told Dr. J. S. McGee, formerly of Wallace, that he was a spy and that he was going to "get" with Steunenberg. He positively denied that he had. A conversation with D. C. Coates, formerly lieutenant governor of Colorado, was repeated by Richardson. In this Orchard is alleged to have said:

"The more I see of my old partners in the Hercules the more bitter I feel. They all are rich and I am a wandering pauper. I'll get even with Steunenberg yet."

Orchard said quietly: "I never made any such statement, either then or elsewhere."

With this point the State took Orchard over the redirect examination.

MYSTERIOUS SHOOTING PUZZLES POLICE

SAN FRANCISCO, June 18.—The local police are perplexed over the mysterious shooting of Louis Yere, a French baker, while he was working in his establishment at 640 Pierce street shortly after 1:30 o'clock this morning. Yere and another baker named Constance were working together in a basement room when a knock on the window attracted their attention. The proprietor opened the blind and three shots were fired from the outside, one of which shattered the bone in his right leg. The other shots failed to take effect. His assailants escaped, but Yere's assistant declares that he can identify the man who did the shooting, as he caught a glimpse of his face through the open window. He asserts that he knows the man, but cannot recall his name.

Mrs. Potter Palmer to Marry an Earl

CHICAGO, June 18.—The Tribune last night received advices from London telling of the engagement of Mrs. Potter Palmer to Aubrey Fitzclarence, Earl of Munster and Baron Tewkesbury. The engagement has not been announced officially, but the Tribune's correspondent declared that there was no doubt an understanding had been reached and that publication would follow in a few days. The wedding will take place in London in the fall.

JAMES L. GALLAGHER, ACTING MAYOR OF SAN FRANCISCO.

LAW UNDER WHICH SCHMITZ LOSES OFFICE

Charter provisions under which Mayor Schmitz was declared incapacitated and Supervisor James L. Gallagher appointed acting Mayor:

Section 6, chapter 1, article IV. "When and so long as the Mayor is temporarily unable to perform his duties, a member of the board shall be chosen president pro tempore, who shall act as such Mayor. When a vacancy occurs in the office of Mayor, it shall be filled for the unexpired term by the Supervisors."

TELEGRAPHERS' STRIKE SEEMS INEVITABLE NOW

Oakland, June 18, 1907.

Editor TRIBUNE: I, W. W. McCandlish, local president of the Commercial Telegraphers' Union, state that matters have reached a climax in the strike situation and that the prospects of a walkout seems inevitable in view of the stand taken by the Postal and Western Union companies that they will not entertain our demands for increased pay and shorter hours.

Our plans have been completed and it is but a question of hours when the fight for recognition of the union and a betterment of working conditions with increased pay will be on.

W. W. McCandlish.

GALLAGHER'S APPOINTMENT IS ONLY TEMPORARY ONE

SAN FRANCISCO, June 18.—James L. Gallagher's appointment yesterday as acting mayor by the board of supervisors is only a temporary one. He will serve only until the supreme court has decided whether or not it will admit Mayor Schmitz to bail pending the hearing of his petition for a new trial. Should Schmitz be granted freedom on bail, Gallagher will, of course, go out of office at once, for the mayor will no longer be incapacitated for performing the duties of chief executive of the city.

Gallagher's removal will likely come, it is said, this week, either through the admission of Schmitz to bail by the Supreme Court or through removal by the prosecution. When the new acting mayor is installed a wholesale cleaning out of the Schmitz municipal commissions will follow.

ALL STRIKING LINEMEN HAVE ONE MORE DAY TO GO TO WORK

(By Associated Press.)

SAN FRANCISCO, Cal., June 18.—This is the last day of grace for the striking telephone linemen, according to the officials of the company. If they do not go back to work Wednesday morning the understanding is that the international organization will supply men to take their places.

Twenty of the strikers reported for work yesterday and a much larger number is expected today.

Tomorrow morning the company expects to have a full force, which consists of about 160 men, at work again. Officials of the International Brotherhood stated yesterday that if local 151 did not order its men back to work by midnight Tuesday its charter would be revoked.

CHILDREN CLING TO POLICE, CRYING IN FEAR OF FATHER

SAN FRANCISCO, June 18.—There was a stirring scene about police headquarters this morning when the three children of Lavenberg, crying with fear, were struggling in their terror, refused to go home with their father. Even the hardened hearts of policemen and officers on the police force were melted by the apparent fear of the children and it was only the consent of the father to turn the children over to an aunt that prevented outside interference.

William W. H. Young, representing the society for the Prevention of Child Abuse, said taken the children to the police court and summoned the father to explain why he would not turn over their clothing, and their meeting resulted in the scene which was enacted at the entrance to the police station.

Policeman Young says that he has had repeated complaints that Lavenberg treats his children cruelly and beats them unreasonably. The children, two girls and a boy, hear out this statement and were terrified when their father tried to get them to go home with him.

Steps will be taken to have the uncle of the children appointed as legal guardian.

NO ONE KNOWS, SO THEY ALL SAY

Chief of Police Dinan Will Not Recognize Authority of Acting Mayor Gallagher.

Langdon Says the Unknown Man Depends on Exigencies---Heney and Spreckels Remain Silent.

(By Associated Press.)

SAN FRANCISCO, June 18.—The city of San Francisco appears to have two mayors today. One of them, Eugene E. Schmitz, occupies a suite in the city and county jail and offers to attend to all municipal business there. The other one, James L. Gallagher, president pro tem of the board of supervisors and by vote of that body created acting mayor, proposes to perform the duties of his office wherever he may happen to be.

For Mayor Schmitz refuses to recognize the official existence of Mayor Gallagher, and to that end has instructed Police Sergeant Peter Fanning to use force, if necessary to prevent Gallagher from taking possession of the mayor's office at Franklin and Post streets.

The smiling response of the District Attorney's office, by whose order Gallagher was appointed acting Mayor, is that Sergeant Fanning may stay "on the door" for the rest of the year if he likes, or Schmitz instructions, because there is no such thing as a mayorality seat, and possession of the premises at Post and Franklin streets is put in any sense necessary to the conduct of the office itself.

Legal developments are expected today. It is understood that as soon as Acting Mayor Gallagher attempts to perform any mayoralty function of importance in pursuance of instructions from the District Attorney, Eugene Schmitz' attorneys, Messrs. Campbell, Metson, Drew, Fairall and Barrett, will apply to the courts for a restraining injunction and an order declaring invalid the appointment of Gallagher.

District Attorney Langdon is prepared to resist to such a move and he believes there is no doubt that the act of the Supervisorial Board will be sustained.

SAN FRANCISCO, June 18.—As the famous Pinafore circus has so often remarked in the past, "Here's a pretty how-do-you-do."

The chief of police of San Francisco is not acquainted with its Mayor.

It is doubtful from an interview had this morning whether the chief would recognize the Mayor if he met him on the street.

"I know of but one Mayor," said Chief Dinan this morning, "and his name is Eugene Schmitz."

"You haven't heard about the appointment of Mayor Gallagher?" he was asked.

"I know nobody by the name of Mayor Gallagher," was the curt reply.

"You are not taking orders then from the acting Mayor?"

"I am cognizant of no such official. So far as I know the Mayor of San Francisco is the same man, who has been acting since I was appointed."

GALLAGHER NOT AROUND.

San Francisco had no mayor today, so far as official circles were aware, or so far as any acting executive might be found at the various headquarters. Acting Mayor Gallagher, had not appeared at the Supervisors' room nor had he been heard from at the central police station, or by any of the city officials whose offices are there.

A sergeant of detectives was in charge of Mayor Schmitz' offices at Post and Franklin streets, but said he had heard nothing from the acting mayor and did not anticipate a visit there.

The mayor's own palatial offices are regarded as a sort of personal property as the red automobile is looked upon. Neither one will be devoted to the uses of any temporary successor to Mayor Schmitz.

Rudolph Spreckels said he had been attending to his own business all morning, when seen at noon and would give nothing new concerning the municipal situation. He said so far as he was concerned things were progressing in accordance with the acts and will of the Board of Supervisors and that he had no hand in any proceedings that might now be on foot contemplating any changes.

SAN FRANCISCO, June 18.—The question as to who will be the temporary mayor of San Francisco to succeed Supervisor Gallagher, who was yesterday elected to perform the duties of that office, pending the incarceration of Mayor Schmitz, is still undecided.

Speaking on the matter this morning, District Attorney Langdon said:

"The matter of the succession to Mr. Gallagher as acting mayor of this city has not yet been considered. It is a subject which depends upon contingencies. What those contingencies are cannot now be discussed."

Assistant District Attorney Heney and Rudolph Spreckels would not discuss the question at all.

Detective Burns, who has been associated with the graft prosecutions, said to THE TRIBUNE correspondent:

"You must see Mr. Langdon, Mr. Heney and Mr. Spreckels in the matter. The people are very much interested on this subject. So far as I know, if you were to pick out ten of the best citizens of San Francisco, who have not been officially prominent in the Citizens' Alliance, who are not connected with the United Railroads, and who are not affiliated with or interested in, directly or indirectly any of the corporations or officers of which have been indicted by the present grand jury, you would come as close to determining who will be the next acting mayor of this city as I can."

JUDGE LAWLOR GRANTS SCHMITZ MORE FREEDOM

SAN FRANCISCO, June 18.—Mayor Schmitz was given permission by Judge Lawlor this morning to pay another visit to the offices of his attorneys during the day, but failed in his effort to have the court extend the scope of the absence from the County Jail so as to permit him to attend to other private business.

Attorney Frank Drew, of his counsel, appeared before Judge Lawlor at the opening of the court session and demanded that Schmitz be permitted to leave the jail to consult with his attorneys and "for transaction of such other private and public business as is necessary."

The application recited that the "District Attorney is seeking to usurp his office and it is necessary for him to take steps to prevent it."

Judge Lawlor stipulated that Schmitz should visit the office of his attorneys only and placed no limitation on the time he may be away from jail.

MIKADO HAD HAND IN AMBASSADOR'S RECALL

TOKYO, June 18.—(Tuesday afternoon).—There are strong indications that Ambassador Aoki will be recalled. There is an inclination to connect the rumor of his reported recall coming with Premier Saionji's audience with the Mikado the morning immediately after the cabinet council.

CONFERENCE OVER PLANS OF THE NEW COUNTY JAIL

Board of Supervisors Decides Not to Adopt the Recommendations of the Architect.

An adjourned meeting of the Board of Supervisors was held this morning for the consideration of the plans of the new county jail, which Architect Miller, in a report filed at the meeting held on the 15th instant, recommended to be changed. In the interest of humane and sanitary purposes and for the greater convenience of the Sheriff's office.

All of the members were present at roll call. District Brown, Assistant District Attorney Donohue and Mr. Miller, the architect of the new county jail were present.

Supervisor Kelly stated the object of the adjourned session. The report of the architect, he said, had been referred to the committee of the whole, but it had been considered better to take it up in open board.

SHERIFF'S QUARTERS.

Architect Miller was asked to explain his proposed changes. He said his report recommended nine changes. Proposed changes numbered 1 and 2 related to the alteration of the main office of the Sheriff in the basement, by putting in a partition through the center to form a bailiffs' room where the ten or twelve deputy sheriffs can be kept under the eye of the Sheriff. This change would necessitate the closing of one entrance to the Sheriff's office and the opening of a new entrance for use of the bailiffs' room. These changes had been approved by the Sheriff, Under Sheriff and the bailiffs.

DOESN'T KNOW THE COST.

Chairman Mitchell—What is going to be the cost?

Architect Miller—I haven't made any estimate of cost of any of the proposed changes. Conditions relating to building construction at the present time are such that no estimate can be made which will not be ambiguous.

ARCHITECT MILLER EXPLAINS.

Mr. Miller then proceeded to describe the changes which he proposed to make in the ventilation system. These changes were based on the results obtained after several months of special study and personal consultation with Mr. Gates of the State Board of Charities and Correction. The changes involve the substitution of an automatic system of ventilation for the hand system provided for in the plans as the latter have been adopted. Another change related to the hot water flushing system. As to the cost of these alterations he had made no estimate. They might cost $20,000 or they might cost $50,000.

POWERS OF THE BOARD.

District Attorney Brown read section 4072 and 4073 to show how the board can act in the matter, that a two-thirds vote would legalize any action taken. But it would be necessary for the board to have a definite understanding with the contractor beforehand regarding the cost of whatever alterations it should decide to make.

JAIL VENTILATION.

Mr. Miller explained that the present ventilation system provided for in the plans would accommodate one prisoner to a cell. But the cells had been arranged so that each one could hold two prisoners. Then, the present ventilation system would provide for one prisoner to a cell. The ventilation system would be inadequate.

Increasing proportionately with the increase of the population and it was reasonable to assume that in time the cells would be required to carry two prisoners. His ambition as an architect was to produce a county jail which would be a model structure of its kind, one which every county in the State would copy. The washer and dryer which he recommended to be installed was for the purpose of purifying and disinfecting the air in the jail.

FISCAL YEAR OBLIGATIONS.

A long discussion followed regarding the payment of an indebtedness incurred in one fiscal year out of the revenues of another fiscal year, which the District Attorney advised the board could not be legally done and that if it were done the contractor could not collect his bill.

Miller—Perhaps the contractor would be willing to take his chances on the collection of his claim.

UNREDEEMABLE CLAIMS.

District Attorney—There are $80,000 worth of claims against the county for the payment of which there is no money in the treasury. Probably they can be legitimately paid $10,000, which will leave $70,000. Then $20,000 may come in later from this year's delinquent taxes, which will still leave $50,000 worth of claims which cannot be legally paid out of any of the revenues of future fiscal years.

SATISFIED WITH PRESENT PLANS.

After considerable discussion on this general line in which the District Attorney pointed out the financial complications and difficulties which might arise out of the adoption of the architect's recommendations, the latter

MONKEY-HOUSE ESCAPE PREVENTS CARUSO'S VISIT

FAMOUS SINGER BARRED FROM U.S. Immigration Officers Will Not Allow Him to Land.

ENRICO CARUSO.

NEW YORK, June 18.—Enrico Caruso, the world's greatest tenor singer, however much he desires to keep his $100,000 per season contract with Her Majesty's Theatre, may never be permitted to set foot on United States soil again. It is asserted that the Federal Government immigration officials will not permit him to land when he seeks to return to this country in October.

The officials say that Caruso comes clearly with the making of an undesirable alien as defined in Section 2 of the Act of 1903. This act stipulates that "persons who have been convicted of a felony, or other crime or misdemeanor involving moral turpitude," shall be excluded from the United States.

It is cited that the records of the New York court in the famous "Monkey House" case shows that Caruso was convicted of the crime of "moral turpitude" in the meaning of "moral turpitude." The appeal in the case, it is contended, was taken with special reference to having this conviction wiped from the records so that no question as to Caruso's character or moral standing could be raised by the immigration officials when he sought to return to this country.

MODEL BUILDING LAW IS PRINTED

City Council Passes New Ordinance to Press for City Use.

The building ordinance which was passed to print by the city council last night was introduced in the council in September of last year, and by the council referred to a commission composed of Councilmen Baccus and Thurston, J. D. Galloway (engineer), Walter J. Matthews (architect), W. T. Veitch (builder) and the board of public works. Each member of the commission was furnished with a copy of the ordinance as introduced, and after each member had read the ordinance they held several sessions and went into the technical part of the ordinance very thoroughly, using as their guide the best ordinances of the larger cities of the United States, together with the building code of the National Fire Underwriters. The members of the commission devoted a great deal of time and thought to the compilation of the ordinance, giving it the benefit of their wide experience, and which they had completed their work the ordinance was left in the hands of the board of public works to arrange the various classifications in proper divisions and to add the technical points which would be fitting applications and plans, fixing fees and penalties, obstructions of streets, and such matters as the experience of the board showed were necessary. The ordinance occupies one hundred and twenty-nine typewritten pages and is divided into three hundred and eleven sections and fifteen parts. The various divisions of the ordinance are covered as follows:

Part 1, title, 2, fire limits; 3, issuance of permits, filing of plans, specifications and statement, demolition of buildings, fees, examination of new buildings and materials; 4, definition of terms; 5, measurements for height, length and width of buildings; 6, materials and construction; 7, classification heights and description of buildings; 8, class A buildings; 9, class B buildings; 10, class C buildings; 11, theaters; 12, frame buildings; 13, general provisions; 14, electrical wires, appliances and construction; 15, regulations for temporary occupancy of public streets, temporary sidewalk and fences in front of buildings in course of construction, excavation permit, preparation of concrete or mortar on paved streets, found of public works to stop construction work on certain buildings, unsafe structures, inspectors' right to enter buildings, protest in violation of ordinance, ordinance repealed, penalties.

The ordinance is much more complete than the old building ordinance, and contains the construction of class A, B and C buildings, including reinforced construction, and carefully it also provides for the addition by the Council of new laws, methods and materials that might be suggested and added to the ordinance. It also covers the construction of buildings for theaters and other houses of public entertainment for the conduct of such buildings already built, naming conditions which they must comply with in the way of exits, fire protection, condition of aisles and seats, etc., which are considered necessary for the proper protection of life and property.

One of the important features of the ordinance is the regulation of electrical wiring and installation of electrical apparatus. Heretofore, the city had no jurisdiction over these matters, and the only inspection made was by the electrical company furnishing electricity. In event that the contractor of building work did not notify the city of the wiring before it was covered up, the company would refuse to connect its wires to the building, and the owner thereof entered into an agreement with said company, relieving the company of any possible damages that might be caused by fire resulting from defective wiring. The new ordinance provides for the inspection of electrical wiring and installation by the department of electricity under the direction of the Board of Public Works, and establishes rules and specifications for such work following the Underwriters' code and the National Fire Underwriters' code. The board will proceed with the publication of the ordinance as stated.

LANGDON SAYS SCHMITZ IS MERELY INCAPACITATED

Convicted Mayor Has Not Been Removed From Office, but Cannot Attend to Duties in Jail.

BY DISTRICT ATTORNEY LANGDON.

The action of the Supervisors in appointing Gallagher acting Mayor was due to the fact that it is necessary to have someone take control of the office at once to care for the business that needs attention there. Schmitz is absolutely incapacitated from carrying on the business of the office because of his imprisonment, and the action was taken under the clause of the charter which provides that a member of the board of Supervisors shall be appointed acting Mayor whenever the Mayor is temporarily unable to perform the duties of the office. That is the condition which now exists. Schmitz has not been removed from office. He is still Mayor, and Gallagher's power will continue only so long as Schmitz remains incapacitated.

No further steps have been taken toward putting a new man in the Mayor's chair, as has been suggested. No Supervisor has been asked to resign, and if any resignation were tendered now it would be necessary to wait until the next meeting of the Supervisors before it could be acted upon officially. If Schmitz should succeed at any time in obtaining bail it would restore his right to assume office. I cannot say what action might be taken by the district attorney's office in such instances, for the possibility is at least remote, and we do not believe in crossing bridges before we come to them.

SUCCESSFUL IN FIGHT AGAINST GOOD WALK

It seemed like a repetition of ancient history when a protest was heard by the City Council last night against a resolution of intention to order cement sidewalks laid in front of the C. H. King block, bounded by Twelfth, Thirteenth, Webster and Harrison streets. In former years A. C. Dietz owned the block and fought off an attempt to lay cement sidewalks in front of the block. The situation is to be put up to all in a common sense way and those who are desirous of ending the strike will refuse to "ratify" the cars.

As a member of the joint committee, I assume no responsibility for the acts of the committee. They will be expected to follow out the plans of the joint committee and assist in the taking of reports and to be photographed. The situation is to be put up to all in a common sense way and those who are desirous of ending the strike will refuse to "ratify" the cars.

There was no anarchistic meeting yesterday as was reported, but a gathering of some, cool-headed men. There was never a more passionate or more straightforward talk ever given to a body of striking men than was given to the carmen yesterday. Nothing was said about rivers of blood or violence.

EIGHTH STREET SHOW HOUSE WILL REOPEN

After a thorough renovation and enlargement of the popular Eighth street theater it will re-open its doors to the public next Saturday evening, when Manager Hadji has promised his patrons one of the best vaudeville programs ever seen in Oakland. Among those to appear in this city for the first time will be: The musical wonder, Sterling, who claims to be the world's champion trumpeter, late of the Third U. S. Artillery; the Eight Belles, Italian dancing and singing combination; the Meszaris, clown subroette acrobats, who come direct from Keith's New York theater; Harry Love, a famous illustrated song singer; Miss Evelyn Alexander, a celebrated eastern young miss said to possess a marvelous voice; Patrick Green, a well known Irish comedian and the Eighth street theater comedy company, which will present the funny skit entitled "Married by Mistake," the cast including Joe Bates, Harry Loveridge, James Tyrol, Orietta Latham, Maud Taylor and Joe Bates. The bill will be now a long one, and pictures, and altogether the bill will be an exceptionally fine one. The admission will continue as formerly, 10c and 25c, no higher. There will be at least one show daily, with extra shows on Sundays and holidays. The Eighth street theater will now compare favorably with the best appointed continuous show houses on the coast and the business at this favorite place of amusement will surely be larger than ever, as the seating capacity has been doubled, and in appointments everything is up to date.

CONVERT TREES INTO NEWSPAPER IN 2 1/2 HOURS

The directors of a great paper factory at Elsenthal, Germany, in which American methods have been introduced, have set a remarkable record in co-operation with a newspaper.

At 7:35 in the morning three trees were cut down in the woods surrounding the factory and carried to the pulp mills, after having been deprived of their bark and branches as fast as a score of men could work.

They were instantly transformed into paper, and at 9:34 the first roll of paper was ready. The press room of the paper was two miles off, and the paper was rushed there in an automobile with no loss of time and immediately fed to the presses.

At 10 o'clock sharp the first copies were sold, printed on paper which two hours and 25 minutes before had been waving in the morning breeze.—The Printers' Album.

CY PERKINS, BILL'S BROTHER, RUN OVER

It is with great regret we chronicle the fact that Cy Perkins, who has been visiting in our midst, sustained injuries last night when he was over by a buggy.

Everyone knows Cy Perkins—at least everyone at Bird Center, Ohio. Cy Perkins for many years took a prominent part in Bird Center doings.

Cy was walking down Broadway last night, enjoying the contrast between a quiet night in Oakland and a busy evening on State street, Bird Center.

An Bird Center man may stop in the middle of the crossing to inquire about the condition of the crop on the old mill road. By force of habit Mr. Perkins paused just long enough in crossing the street last night to come into violent contact with a buggy.

He was taken to the Receiving Hospital, where it was found that he had sustained a fracture of the upper end of the femur.

Mr. Perkins' brother, William, familiarly known at Bird Center as "Bill," was injured in a similar accident in Chicago a number of years ago, being run down by a hansom while viewing the Masoleo Temple from the street.

Lawton killed a handful of people while millions have almost died laughing over Bill Nye's writings. The pen is mightier than the sword. Lincoln's sayings will be dear to his countrymen when Grant and Lee and all the heroes have been forgotten. War is coming into its own. A good laugh is the greatest foe to indignation. ALAMEDA, June 18.—The San Francisco police yesterday sent a warrant to this city for the local police to arrest Mizhizo Yamamoto, a shoe dealer of High street, on a charge of assault with a deadly weapon, with intent to commit murder.

The police went to the shoe shop at High street, but instead of finding the Japanese they found a lot of his customers gazing longingly into the window of the store where their shoes had been piled. The Japanese had decamped and a big padlock fastened the door.

Where the Japanese has gone, the police do not know. It is not known into what trouble the Japanese got himself in San Francisco.

THRASHED IN PUBLIC BY WIFE, SPOUSE IS DIVORCED

Husband Says Beatings From Better Half Caused Him Too Great Mental and Physical Torture to Endure.

James Finlayson was granted an interlocutory decree of divorce this morning from Louise E. Finlayson on the grounds of extreme cruelty. It was claimed that Mrs. Finlayson used violence in her affections for James. He said that on one occasion in front of the Liberty theater in June, 1906, Mrs. Finlayson struck him in the face with her fist, which caused him painful injuries, both physical and mental. The month following, Finlayson said that his better half gave him a sound chastising while the couple were waiting at the ferry building in San Francisco to return to Oakland. With the many tribulations that made his married life one continual storm of violent rebukes, Finlayson asked the Paul's own section 31 of the township and claims that the defendants now occupy it. The dispute arises over the difference in the two surveys of the valley, which in some places vary as much as half a mile. A large amount of property in the valley is similarly affected and the difficulty is, therefore, important to many.

HAYWOOD'S LETTER IMPLICATES HIM IN PLOT TO COMMIT MURDER

BOISE, Idaho, June 18.—With Harry Orchard recalled to the stand first formally to be prepared by the defense for impeachment, and then to be re-directly examined, the state produced this morning a number of letters written by the witness and one by the prisoner, Haywood, the purpose of which was to show that there had been a conspiracy to deceive Mrs. Orchard in Cripple Creek as to the whereabouts of Orchard in the spring and summer of 1905.

The defense vigorously protested against the introduction of the matter on re-direct examination, but the court ruled that it was improper on re-direct to let it into the state to re-open its examination. Orchard swore that Haywood said in the spring of 1905 that Mrs. Orchard was repeatedly writing to him as to Orchard's whereabouts, and Orchard suggested that he write her a series of letters, dated them at San Francisco and have them delivered through the introduction of the matter Miners. Two were thus written and the state producing them secured their admission.

One was written, dated at Nome, Alaska, and given to Marion Moore, then an organizer for the Western Federation of Miners to take to Alaska and mail. The state produced the letter and objections secured its admission.

HAYWOOD'S LETTER. Next the state produced a letter written by Haywood himself to Mrs. Orchard, showing that the prisoner had knowledge of the Alaskan story and this too was admitted in evidence. Orchard also testified that the rules of Mrs. Orchard were sent to him through Haywood.

The impeaching questions propounded by the defense all indicated a purpose by the defense to show that the various times Orchard threatened to kill Steunenberg because of a desire to be revenged for the loss of his interest in the Hercules mine. J. H. Hawley asked as to Orchard's interest in the Hercules mine which was some time prior to the troubles in the Cour d'Alene's when, in 1899, Orchard was there and left the State after blowing up of the concentrator at Gardner. The copy of the letter identified earlier in the morning by Deputy Sheriff Nichols, was handed to Orchard and the contents were identified by him. The letter read in effect:

"Dear Tom: I have received yours and have sent that to Jack. I hope to hear from you as to your movements and that you will be successful." IDENTIFIED LETTER. Orchard said in his direct examination that the letter came from Pettibone.

A copy of a telegram from Spokane was identified by Orchard. The telegram read:

"Attorney Fred Miller will start for Caldwell in the morning."

Orchard said he had not made any arrangements with Miller, but that in October, 1905, Simpkins had told him that if he ever got into any trouble the firm in Spokane, of which Miller was a member, would be a good one.

"What did he mean by your getting into any trouble?" asked Hawley.

"I suppose he meant trouble over the killing of Steunenberg."

Orchard did not speak to Fred Miller about trouble of this kind when in Spokane.

"No, sir; I only talked to him about suing the railroad for the loss of my trunk."

From this the state jumped to April, 1905, and asked what Haywood had said to him about writing to his wife, Orchard was proceeding to tell of a letter Haywood had written to Mrs. Orchard when the defense objected hotly on the ground that it was new evidence. Senator Borah argued that the defense had brought out in the cross-examination that Haywood had spoken of correspondence with Mrs. Orchard.

"If there is any question of this being proper re-direct examination, the court will allow the state to re-open."

said Judge Wood very positively, and the state proceeded to read the part of Clarence Darrow to continue their argument.

LETTERS FROM ALASKA. Orchard said that an arrangement was made when he was in Alaska, that Mrs. Orchard should be told that Orchard had gone to Alaska, and that the letter should be written by Orchard dated from Alaska before he went to San Francisco. Orchard said one letter was written in Denver and the other in Idaho to kill Steunenberg and handed to Paddy Mulliney, who was organized for some time.

Orchard said, to Marion Moore, also given, Orchard said, to Marion Moore, who was an agent of the Western Federation of Miners who took the letters to the mine.

At this point three letters were marked for identification under a running fire of protest from the defense. Judge Wood, however, overruled all the objections. The letter written by Orchard and given to Mrs. Orchard through Paddy Mulliney to Cripple Creek was offered in evidence. Counsel of the defense of Haywood went into consultation over the letters. An objection was made to both letters because they were private correspondence between Orchard and his wife had no bearing on the case against Haywood.

LAST PHOTOS. Judge Wood during the pause said that he would allow the photographs a last opportunity to be introduced in evidence and a question that was becoming somewhat tense owing to the very apparent earnestness of both sides over the documentary evidence, the state to get it in and the defense to keep it out, was relieved. Hawley complaining that the photographs thus far had shown only the back of his head.

Judge Wood carefully read the letters offered in evidence and after some minutes' consideration, he admitted them.

LETTER FROM NOME. Another letter from Orchard to his wife mailed in Nome, Orchard said he wrote the letter in Pettibone's store in Denver, and gave it to the executive board of the Western Federation of Miners, who was going to San Francisco. It was agreed that the date should be filled in when Moore got to Nome. Orchard said it was never in Alaska.

When the prosecution offered the next document a decided stir showed that the state of the court was aroused. Two letters were handed to counsel for the defense. These were from Haywood to Mrs. Orchard in Cripple Creek, and one from Mrs. Orchard, addressing Mrs. Orchard as "Dear Madam and Sister," telling her that Orchard has gone to Alaska.

Orchard said he had received a letter from his wife while he was in Denver, and he said by Haywood. Senator Borah read one of the letters from Orchard to Mrs. Orchard, and purporting to come from San Francisco.

The letter Orchard told her in reply to hand the letter to Paddy Mulliney, who would take it to headquarters and forward it.

All the letters were read to the jury. Orchard said that the letter from the Western Federation of Miners, dated from San Francisco, was the entire thing.

Orchard read practically as follows: "Dear Sister and Madam: I have not had any communication from you since I left. I think was the address. I see that terrible comment at Cripple Creek."

W. D. Haywood.

The letter was dated from Denver in November, 1905. At this point Judge Wood asked Hawley how long he would take to conclude his redirect. Hawley replied that he would take 130 p. m.

SAY SCHMITZ WILL NOT SUE TO RETAIN OFFICE

Mayor's Legal Advisers Deny Knowledge of an Exemption Suit in Behalf of the Convicted Executive.

SAN FRANCISCO, June 18.—Attorneys Campbell and Barrett, who have so far represented Mayor Schmitz, both deny any knowledge of an exemption suit or other legal procedure on behalf of the mayor to retain his office.

It was reported that the mayor had some proceeding in his mind to prevent the usurpation of his office while he is in jail.

"We are not handling anything of that sort," said Attorney Campbell and I do not know that the mayor has it in mind.

"I have not been attending to the mayor's case since the close of the trial," said Attorney Barrett. "If such a suit is brought it will be done by Campbell, Melton and Drew, and if they don't know anything about it, it is disposed of by sentence on June 27."

is safe to say that no such action is proposed.

DISCUSS NEW MAYOR. "Who will be the next mayor?" Henry was asked this afternoon.

"That's just what I want to know," replied Henry.

Spreckels and Henry took lunch together and talked over the situation, but when they returned to Henry's office neither of them had anything to say. They would not discuss the proposed to have one of the supervisors resign, and in his place appoint a man who should later be elevated to the position of mayor.

It appears that their movement is not to be made immediately. District Attorney Langdon suggests that the situation may remain about as it is until after Mayor Schmitz' case is disposed of by sentence on June 27.

W. P. I had an attack of malaria fever which weakened my kidneys and caused severe backaches, pain and lameness, as well as disorder and annoyance from the kidney secretions. I was troubled this way for five years, trying different remedies, but received little benefit until I began using Doan's Kidney Pills. They went right to the root of the trouble and from the first and removed every symptom of it. I only consider it a duty to let others know of Doan's Kidney Pills."

NEEDLE CAUSES NERVE TO FAIL

Chicken-Hearted Italian Elopes From Impending Hospital Operation.

Peto Lottridge, a new arrival in Oakland and stopping at 407 Fourteenth street, made a mad run from the Receiving Hospital at noon today to escape treatment that he thought was being forced upon him.

Lottridge is an Italian and his stay in Oakland has been for the short period of four days. This morning he was riding on the street cars with some friends when the last his balance and fell to the street. His chin was badly cut by coming in contact with the pavement and it bled freely.

Lottridge was hurried to the Receiving Hospital and placed on the operating table. Steward Borchert and attendant, Travers, cleaned the man's face ready for treatment. When the steward approached Lottridge with the needle and saw to sew up the wound the Italian sat erect and stoutly protested.

"This is the way to treat this case," said Borchert, getting ready for the operation.

"I refuse," shouted Lottridge, and he made a spring from the table, alighting by the door.

Traverse did not understand the Italian's motives so pushed the door shut. Lottridge next attempted to get out of the window. It was not until Borchert placed the needle out of sight that the frightened young man left the hospital in peace.

WIVES REQUEST SUITS DROPPED

Women Who Wanted Divorce Now Ask Court to Dismiss All Proceedings.

By the stipulation for the dismissal of the divorce action brought by Rosie Reichert against John A. Reichert this morning, it is evident that the couple have settled their family troubles and forgotten the old fights that Mrs. Reichert related in the divorce complaint she filed last September. She claimed that her spouse beat her and used vile names that slandered her standing in the community near Fruitvale, where the couple kept a store on the old court road.

Mrs. Reichert left her husband and lived with the Harrington family on the Redwood road. It was said that Reichert heard the family quarrels and when she came home he is said to have beaten her very severely.

Since Reichert's little store was burned down last January the family relations have been resumed. Although Mrs. Reichert has treated an interlocutory decree already, she wants it dropped from court for the reconciliation over the children has caused them to patch up the old scores.

Another divorce action sought to be dropped today is the case of James Flynn against James Flynn, who at the time of the filing of the divorce complaint in November, 1904, was a bartender in the employ of the Oakland fire department. Mrs. Flynn complained of her husband coming home drunk and beating her. When they lived on Franklin street, near Seventh, she said he called her names and made several attempts to kill her.

Public Outrage in Sacramento.

If the statements of the Sacramento Bee are to be credited, a graft crusade is badly needed in Sacramento county. It is alleged that the Board of Supervisors have granted a dredger mining company the privilege of destroying the streets and roads in and around Folsom in the search for gold. For this valuable concession the county receives nothing. What reward the Supervisors have received or are to receive is not stated. Usually the understanding on this point is strictly private.

Folsom is situated on the American River where it debouches from the foot-hills. The entire region is rich (or was prior to being worked) in auriferous deposits. While the adjacent territory along the river has been turned up by gold diggers, the public roads have escaped, and are regarded as rich mining ground. Here was an opportunity private greed could not overlook. The dredger mining company operating in the vicinity applied to the Supervisors for permission to work out the public highways, agreeing to construct other roads in lieu of the ones destroyed. And the board granted this extraordinary, impudent request!

No wonder the Bee denounces the proceeding as high-handed and illegal, if no worse. The Supervisors do not own the roads, and have no right to give or sell them to their friends. The highways are public property dedicated by law and custom to public use. If there are valuable gold deposits lying underneath the surface of the roads, those deposits belong to the public and should not be given away for the enrichment of private parties. It is singular that some courageous citizen does not sue out an injunction to restrain the vandalism illegally sanctioned by the Board of Supervisors.

It is conceded that dredging out the roads thus summarily handed over to a greedy corporation under circumstances strongly suggesting graft will permanently disfigure the approaches to the town of Folsom and leave it perched upon a bench surrounded by an unsightly waste of boulders; but where all sense of decency and public obligation is absent, esthetic considerations are not to be looked for. The Sacramento board appears to be made of material as blind to landscape harmonies as its members are deficient in moral sense and official responsibility. It is odd, however, that local incivism prevails to the extent of permitting the contemplated outrage to be consummated. It seems that a little money spent in the local saloons and the patronage bestowed on a few stores is sufficient to quiet open protest. A cowardly community is easily robbed and outraged, and Folsom appears to be no exception to the rule.

The action of the Czar in dismissing the Douma on the eve of the assembly of the Hague Peace Congress was perhaps due to a desire to suppress, as far as possible, the sound of conflict in his empire while peace is under discussion.

While Gallagher and his fellow-boddlers are manning the reform craft, Ruef still keeps the change. Likewise, he is living in clover in a private residence and riding around the city in an automobile at the public expense. Yet we are gravely told that the law deals with all evil-doers alike. But perhaps putting Schmitz in jail eases everything up.

Reform and Reaction.

The reactionists of Russia are once more in the saddle and have obtained full control of the weak and vacillating Czar and influenced him to resume the autocratic powers he professed to relinquish when he issued the imperial decree convoking parliament and granting the country what appeared on the face of it to be a constitution. The latter has, however, proved to be the veriest sham whenever put to a crucial test. The two dumas or parliaments elected under it, through the operation of the universal suffrage it granted, have met the same fate. Both were promptly dissolved as soon as they embarked on any independent course of action or neglected or declined to carry out imperial orders. With the dissolution of the first douma, the Czar made no attempt to annul his constitutional manifesto. The country was then in a state of revolutionary disorder and a disastrous war was being waged in the Orient. It was then too perilous a time to resort to reactionary measures. The bulk of the army was in Manchuria. The navy in home waters was mutinous. The peasantry in the provinces were in arms, murdering landed proprietors and subdividing their estates among themselves. The condition of internal and foreign affairs is now different. The Czar is at peace with the world, save with his own people. His army has returned to Russia proper. He evidently assumes that the time is opportune to withdraw the fiction of a constitution given to his subjects and dissolves, a second time, the house chosen by popular vote, on the ground that it was encroaching on his imperial prerogatives, and, under the cover of a military demonstration, re-assumes autocratic powers. What this reactionary movement will bring forth cannot now be predicted. The country at large seems temporarily paralyzed.

While the Russian Czar has swept every vestige of constitutional government aside, the Emperor Francis Joseph of Austria is about to experience the effects of constitutional government laid down on the broadest lines through the operation of the universal suffrage law, which has produced a strictly representative parliament. The land-owners, the universities and the commercial bodies of Austria, which, under the old election laws, were in supreme control of parliament, are in a hopeless minority in the new body. The working classes and the peasantry are in an overwhelming majority. But it is noted that the new parliament possesses a business-like air and a sense of its responsibility to the whole electorate. This augurs well for the future of the empire. The universal suffrage granted by the Emperor promises to bear good fruit, for a body constituted as this seems to be is not apt to pass any drastic legislation, which will challenge imperial disapproval or revolutionize the domestic interests of the empire or disturb its peace. The civilized world will watch with interest the effects, in these two countries, of the opposite policies of reaction and reform.

The complication with Mrs. Colonel Ayers threatens to give the administration more trouble than the complication with Japan. It is now claimed that the order forbidding Mrs. Ayers to "trespass" on the West Point reservation has turned all the women of the country against Secretary Taft. The Nashville American says: "Taft has no chance for the Presidency with the women and the niggers against him." The American will find that there are a few other persons in the country entitled to vote. But perhaps the women and the "niggers" are not all against the big War Secretary.

WHAT SO RAW AS A DAY IN JUNE IN CHICAGO WHERE 20 PEOPLE DIED FROM THE HEAT YESTERDAY.

A Rank Outside Opinion.

The San Jose Times prints these reflections on the graft crusade: "There is, however, a maxim in our law, in California, to the effect that it is better that ninety-nine guilty escape than that one innocent should suffer."

"The maxim is not unquestioned; but it is a basic principle of our law as it stands, and the law must be changed before the principle can be disacknowledged."

"Too much was done in the olden days in the way of constructing the criminal statutes against the life and liberty of accused men."

"The English trials of three hundred, and even one hundred, years ago read like hideous distortions of human nature, so much did malice take part in the proceedings, or rather machinations, of the prosecution."

"Reports that the prosecution in the graft cases has in several instances outridden the law are disquieting, to say the least. Most of all it is alarming to hear the current gossip of compromise, so common upon every tongue, and so probable withal from a careful scrutiny of the occasional pronouncements of Assistant District Attorney Heney."

"Now that a jury has declared Mayor Schmitz guilty of extortion, it is not reassuring to learn that the record is left open to a whole battery of appeals, stays and writs that may likely result in undoing all that has been accomplished."

"There are not a few that openly declare their doubt upon the question of the discretion of the public and private prosecutors in the multitudinous cases that should come on for trial."

"Again, there are those who openly blame the Spreckels money and the Spreckels interests for giving the prosecution a twist that is likely to result in more good to the Spreckels fortunes than to the dignity and reputation of San Francisco."

If the editor of our San Jose contemporary is not careful he will be jailed for lese majeste, if not for complicity with graft. Telling the truth about San Francisco and the proceedings taken in the graft cases is now regarded as criminal in many quarters. The Times had better beware or it will be placed on the index expurgatorius and its editor placed in hoc.

The proposal to make Five Per Cent Gallagher "reform" Mayor of San Francisco is a trifle humorous, not to say hilarious.

WALSH SAYS WOMAN'S SUIT IS BLACKMAILING SCHEME

Violette Watson Is Determined to Force
Reparation for Alleged Wrongs
by Colorado Millionaire.

NEW YORK, June 18.—Thomas F. Walsh, the Colorado mining millionaire, declared through his secretary, William Wickham, this afternoon that the suit for $200,000 brought against him by Violette Watson, the actress, for breach of contract, was a bold attempt at blackmail.

"There is no truth whatsoever in her charges," he declared. "It is simply a case of shakedown and Mr. Walsh is going to fight it to the end. I can promise that the people behind this woman will not get one cent of Mr. Walsh's money. He will stay here and fight the case to the end."

"Despite the latter assertion, Walsh today gave up his apartments in the Hotel St. Regis and left for some unknown destination."

"I am going out of town," he declared to the clerk "and don't know when I shall return."

His sudden determination to remain in seclusion was due, it was said, because of a summons served on him in the complaint of Violette Watson.

Mr. Walsh, his wife and daughter, have just returned from Europe. He expressed surprise at the published stories. It is his intention to go to Colorado to spend the summer, but the pending litigation may delay him.

The millionaire said that his counsel in this city were Davies, Stone, and Auerbach for mining matters, and Nichols, Annable and Lindsay in other affairs.

Mr. Walsh told of his tour abroad in a forty horsepower automobile which he has brought back with him. He and his family have been abroad for four months.

"I intend that all the details of the case shall be made public," said Miss Watson today. "Even if this investigation fails to disclose them I will begin another action against the man who has spoiled my life. I believe he should be compelled to make reparation."

Booker Washington is reported to have bought a home adjoining that of President Roosevelt on Long Island. And the President usually goes to Oyster Bay each summer to get away from Washington.

William J. Bryan has grown quite stout within the past few years. His present weight is 234 pounds, while at the time he opened the campaign in 1896 he tipped the beam at exactly 165. He was then thirty-six and consequently this adolopsols in the last eleven years has increased sixty-nine pounds.

On an electric car in Boston, one day recently an we conductor was making his first trip. A man seated in one corner of the car noticed that a fare had been skipped. He motioned the conductor to him and said: "There are fifteen people on this car and you have only taken fourteen fares. What will you do now?" The new man looked along the car, scratched his head, then answered: "One of them will have to get off."

General Smirnov writes of General Stoessel's conduct during the siege of Port Arthur: "The timidity of Stoessel was such that he never appeared in the fighting lines, but he abused the population as 'poltroons' and 'rascals.' When, in September, several shells fell near our lodgings, Stoessel moved to the house of General Volkoff. In another part of the town. His flowers and part of his household things had been moved when a shell struck Volkoff's house. The things were then taken back to the old place. Toward the end of November the enemy began shelling us from 11-inch mortars, and Stoessel again removed, this time to the vicinity of the barracks of the Tenth regiment, which was out of range. There he lived in perfect safety until the enemy was able to shell this quarter also. Thereupon he hastened to surrender. Such pusillanimity made him the constant laughing stock not only of the officers, but of the rank and file and civilians as well, but whenever he caught any one ridiculing him he took the crudest vengeance."

STEINWAY AND OTHER PIANOS

VICTOR TALKING MACHINES

The Personal Quality in the Steinway Piano

The Steinway Piano originated in an artist-craftsman's inspiration—it is the answer to the world-dream that excited the musical imagination of Germany, that Beethoven heard in his latter days and that Wagner and Liszt afterward expressed. It is a personal creation that ranks with the art-craft of Raphael and Duerer, but differs from their work in that the piano-master's skill and genius have been transmitted to successors of such originality, and native ability, that the work has continued an uninterrupted approach to perfection—a progression of improvements by father and son, and sons after sons, a cumulation of discovery, invention, research and practical experience applied to the creation of a musical instrument whose range of use is greater than that of any other. In piano-making there has never been another such unbroken line of effort, nor with it such a brilliant association of inventive genius—and, we may add, such universal recognition of the value of this personal quality. It is this personal quality that has made the Steinway the premier piano, and it is the lack of this personal quality in other pianos that has fixed the great distance between the Steinway and its would-be competitors.

You are always welcome to see and hear the Steinways. Uprights, $525 upward; grands, $800 upward. Time, if desired.

BOYS SPANKED IN COURT FOR ANNOYING TEACHER

Justice of Children's Tribunal Orders Mothers to Punish Unruly Offspring in Good Old-Fashioned Way.

NEW YORK, June 18.—Mother spansks of the good, old-fashioned woodshed kind enlivened the Children's Court yesterday, and aided Justice Olmsted in allowing the course of true justice to run smooth.

It was all because of the complaint of Miss Helen Devanney, a pretty young school teacher, who had four boys of her class sent to the court. The lads were Henry Lombardo, No. 240 East One Hundred and Forty-eighth street; Salvatore Cuccerilli, No. 308 East One Hundred and Forty-eighth street; Hector Pucolano, No. 263 East One Hundred and Forty-eighth street, and Anthony Marino, No. 288 East One Hundred and Forty-ninth street.

Miss Devanney testified that the boys were the pests of her class, and that she punished them accordingly. But they were not conquered, and made a personal affair of the case after school hours. Yesterday they followed her to her home, giving her all the way.

When she reached her home at No.

403 Mott avenue and slammed the door the lads rang the bell until it fairly dangled from its fastenings, danced on the stoop and pounded on the doors. Policeman Pheland arrested them.

In the court they were found guilty. Justice Olmsted looked puzzled and then spoke to the mothers of the boys. "If I thought you women would punish the boys as I think you should," he said, "I'd close the case right here. You four women go upstairs to the detention room, take the boys with you and then come back and let me know what has happened."

The four mothers took the hint. In a few seconds there were distinct cries of pain from four different lusty voices, which continued for several minutes.

Then the mothers and the boys returned, the latter wiping their eyes and walking gingerly.

"I think I will suspend sentence," said Justice Olmsted, with a laugh. "Going to be good now, boys?"

In reply there came four answers of: "Boo-hoo-hoo-oo-mmm-mm-yes sir."

WOMAN OF 70 SUES FOR BREACH OF PROMISE

Plaintiff Believed She Was Engaged for Five Years and Demands $50,000 From Married Defendant.

JOLIET, Ill., June 18.—A woman of 70 years can feel just as badly when she is the mitten as a young woman. Mrs. Mina Kilmer, is six years younger. Mrs. Hopkins declares she thought she was engaged to Mr. Youker for the last five years. When she learned of his sudden marriage she hurried to an attorney's office in Aurora, and the breach of promise suit was decided upon. Mr. Youker is a prominent citizen of Joliet.

LEADER OF THE CHOIR SWORE AT HIS WIFE

Pittsburg Woman Is Granted a Divorce From Churchy Husband, Who Also Thrashed Her.

PITTSBURG, Pa., June 18.—Another of Pittsburg's sensational divorces was made public here a few days ago when the details of the Hamilton family troubles were spread on the court records.

Mrs. Ada J. Reno Hamilton, wife of Leroy L. Hamilton, of the fashionable Bellevue suburb, has been granted a divorce from her husband. Hamilton was connected with the Farmer's Deposit National Bank, of Pittsburg, and was choir leader, as well as a shining light in the church. His wife sets forth in her bill of particulars that he not only beat her at different times, but that he swore at her on many occasions.

Hamilton has some very influential friends, and every effort was made to keep the matter from becoming public. Mrs. Hamilton's friends, seeking vindication for her, insisted that the report be made public.

GIRL WITH NOISY HOSE TRIES TO KISS JURORS

Freed of Theft Charge, Young Woman Makes Dash for Her Generous Liberators.

CHICAGO, June 18.—Miss Mary L. Wightman, "the girl with the noisy silk stockings," charged with stealing $1300 from the Chicago branch of Hapgood & Co., where she was employed as cashier, recently was found not guilty by a jury in Judge Ball's court.

She was so elated that she attempted to kiss the jurors. Pandemonium reigned, and the jurors fled, unharmed.

while the excitement was at its height. The scene was the finale of a startling trial. Miss Wightman, who is a graduate of Northwestern University, was charged with tampering with the books, misappropriating the money and giving it to a gambler.

At the trial an employee of the firm testified that he believed Miss Wightman was dressing beyond her means because he "heard her silk stockings."

PRESIDENT FORGETS TO ASSIST WIFE DISMOUNT

"Oh!" Cries Chief Executive, Rushing to Mrs. Roosevelt's Horse, When She Asks for Help.

WASHINGTON, June 18.—President and Mrs. Roosevelt recently spent the morning horseback riding through Rock Creek Park and other suburbs of Washington. Accompanying them were Secretary Root, Senator Lodge and the President's orderly.

When the President dismounted, he found several friends waiting for him, and others claimed the attention of Secretary Root and Senator Lodge. The orderly had turned to look out for the President's horse, and Mrs. Roosevelt was left on her mount, with no one to assist her.

She waited for some minutes, and then said, laughing: "Will some one please help me down?" The President exclaimed "Oh!" and rushed to his wife's side, assisting her to the ground.

The woman who elects to manage a man by diplomacy begins by making a thorough study of him. She perceives that, being human, he has weaknesses, and she turns them to her own emolument and profit.

HOW TO MANAGE A HUSBAND

The ideal way of managing a husband is by diplomacy.

Tact is the philosopher's stone that, if rightly applied will turn a stingy husband into a generous one, a grumpy husband into an amiable one, a surly husband into a creature of lamblike gentleness and docility. Tact is the great and only solvent of domestic difficulties, the only oil that will lubricate the family machinery and keep it working smoothly and without hitches.

Nevertheless, the number of women who choose to manage their husbands by diplomatic methods instead of by bulldozing and nagging and hysterics is pitifully small, yet the only really successful man-tamer is the tactful woman.

WORM WILL TURN.

There are times when the worm will turn, when the meekest husband gets his back up and the most sympathetic husband jams his hat down over his eyes and bangs the front door shut behind him and goes off to the club and leaves his Maria to cry it out alone; but the suave, diplomatic woman, who never rubs a man's fur the wrong way, has him not only bound hand and foot, but he hugs his bonds and would not break them if he could.

TACTFUL METHOD.

Tell it not in Gath, whisper it not in the streets of Askelon, but perhaps one reason why the tactful method of managing a man is not more popular with women is because it calls for more thought and self-control than the average woman has to spare. Also, it is some trouble to do it, and most women would rather take a chance on the divorce court than to put themselves out about anything but clothes and bridge.

THOROUGH STUDY.

The woman who elects to manage a husband by diplomacy begins by making a thorough study of him. She perceives that being human he has weaknesses, and she turns them to her own emolument and profit. She sees that he has certain virtues and she makes use of them. She observes that he has certain prejudices, and certain habits and ways, and she lets them be a lamp unto her feet and guide books and signposts pointing her to the flowery paths of matrimony wherein she may wander.

CLOSE ABOUT MONEY.

The diplomat, for example, finds that while her husband is a good fellow, he is a little close and penurious about money. She knows that he can afford to give her pretty clothes, and to live in good style, and she is determined not to exist in the sordid way that his miserly tastes suggest. She does not, however, spend her time wrangling with him over every dollar or reproach him for his lack of liberality.

She knows that he is very vain, and inordinately proud of his success in business, and she represents to him, sweetly and innocently, that she feels it her duty as a wife to wear Paris clothes and have a handsome home, because she's simply got to live up to his reputation, if it kills her.

HIDE POTS AND PANS AND JOIN COMMUNITY KITCHEN

Many Want to Unite With Eight Families Who Belong to Colony Club and Have One Chef.

KANSAS CITY, June 18.—Tired of the trouble their cooks made, eight West Side women have set out to solve the domestic help problem.

A week ago each of them discharged her cook, looked up her kitchen windows, put the pots and pans and plates away and joined the Colony Club.

A two-story house within a block of the homes of all the members was rented and Miss Anabel Hart was employed as chef. Two other women were hired to help her. They live in the house.

Each of the eight families has its own table and each furnishes its own table linen and silver and contributes its quota of the kitchen utensils. The chef arranges the menus. At the end of each month the cost will be computed and each family will pay its proportionate share.

So successful has the experiment proved already that several other families want to join.

WEDDING OF MISS CONGER TO UNCLE SHOCKS SOCIETY

Washington and Denver Startled When Prominent Belle Violates All Precedent by Marrying Relative.

DENVER, June 18.—The marriage of Miss Emilie Conger, of Washington, to her half uncle, Ward Brown, has created a profound sensation in the national capital and here, where the Brown family are well known.

The marriage violated precedent. In the annals of Denver a marriage between uncle and niece is unknown.

In many States it is against the law and such a marriage is held to be void.

But Miss Conger does not give a snap of her fingers for precedent. It was a case of mutual love with her and the half brother of her mother.

Ward Brown and his brother, George Brown, spent their boyhood days in Denver, and the father was well known here. The bride is prominent in Washington society.

BRIDE REGISTERED AS BOY

M. Lenoir and Mlle. Deschamps were about to set out to be married at La Haye Malherbe, Normandy, says the London Standard, when the village schoolmaster, who is also the village clerk and registrar of births, came to them, exclaiming: "The marriage is impossible!"

He explained that his predecessor had mistakenly registered the birth of the bride as that of a boy, and under the registration Mlle. Deschamps would become liable to serve as a soldier this year. The bride and bridegroom hurried off to the Mayor and Magistrate and implored them to authorize the marriage, urging that the mistake in the register was self-evident.

"The authorities turned a deaf ear to their pleading, for French red tape is not to be treated lightly, and it will take time to repair the mistake."

CONCERNING WOMEN.

The merry war goes on all over the country in regard to the salaries of teachers. The Pennsylvania legislature has passed a law in regard to the salaries, making the minimum $40 a month. When teachers hold a professional or permanent certificate the minimum is to be $50, this to come after two years' teaching.

The first man to employ women clerks at Washington in the Government department was Francis E. Spinner, the man who wrote his name in such a way across the treasury notes that it defied counterfeiting. The women now employed in the Government departments have formed a Francis Spinner Memorial Association out of respect to the man who made it possible for so many women to become self-supporting.

Mme. Augustine Castello de Romero Rubla, who died the other day, the mother of President Diaz of Mexico, was very fond of the problems of political life, and never missed an opportunity to acquaint herself with any matter of public interest. She took a prominent part in the affairs of her country.

WHITE MAN WANTED A COOK SO WEDS 300-POUND NEGRESS

NORTHAMPTON, Mass., June 18.—Mrs. Mercy A. Adams, a negress, forty years old and weighing 300 pounds, was married yesterday to Moses D. Woodward, white, a West Bridgewater, Vt., farmer, nearly ten years her junior. Woodward is overshadowed by his portly bride, who weighs twice as much as her husband. Both bride and bridegroom are divorcees.

Woodward, it is said, wanted a housekeeper and was so impressed with Mrs. Adams' talent as a cook that he proposed marriage.

The Rev. J. C. Breaker, pastor of the Baptist Church, declined to perform the ceremony, but the Rev. F. C. Cobb, who is personally acquainted with the bride, consented. To forestall misjudgment of his motives, he declined to accept any fee.

WHEN A GIRL IS AROUND

When a girl is around and is watching of you It is wonderful all of the things you can do; You can run twice as fast and can jump twice as high, You can turn a neat handspring and never half try; You can hop, skip and jump, and you're never afraid To take any kind of a dare that is made; You can hang by your toes twenty feet from the ground On the limb of a tree—when a girl is around.

When a girl is around and you're sure that she sees, You can do your best tricks on the swinging trapeze; You can jump a high fence with the gracefulest spring And hang by your toes from the ropes of the swing When it's going its best—what if you get a fall, You say that it really don't hurt you at all, If it makes you see stars—and you're up with a bound And a smile on your face—when a girl is around.

When a girl is around—oh, the heroes we are! Who can leap twice as high, who can jump twice as far, Who can cut up such antics as never before, Who can conquer all worlds and then look for more; From sloughs of dead level as giants we stir To prove all our might and our prowess—to her; And we reach dizzy heights at a leap and a bound As the lad at his play—when a girl is around.

BRITISH AMBASSADOR SMOKES PIPE OF PEACE

GUTHRIE, Okla., June 18.—James Bryce, British ambassador, and his party will spend today in Guthrie as the guests of Governor and Mrs. Francis. Yesterday was spent in traveling through Western Oklahoma, the party arriving here late last night.

Among other things Mr. Bryce yesterday smoked the pipe of peace with Quanah Parker, the Comanche chief, and watched the Indians in their village. Mr. Bryce was quoted as making further comment upon the Oklahoma constitution: "Your proposal," he said, "seems to have a great many experimental ingredients in it. Some of its provisions have been tried and some are now in use in Switzerland, which regard as the greatest democracy on earth."

TO DETERMINE CAUSE OF MINNESOTA WRECK

NORFOLK, Va., June 18.—The entire crews of the New York, Philadelphia and Norfolk tug Orisfield were ordered to appear before Supervising Steamboat Inspector Oast today for an examination to determine whether that boat or its tow is responsible for the recent wrecking of the Minnesota's launch and drowning of the eleven men of the navy. It was announced that the hearing would be held and open to the public. The government officers are said to be confident that the tug's steel bow hawser struck the launch, drove in its side and upset it in the Roads.

TO SEIZE WATER FRONT AT ONCE

City Council Appropriates Funds for Confiscation of West Oakland Shore.

The seizing of water front off the west shore of Oakland was ordered last night by the City Council and $499 out of the funds of the next fiscal year was appropriated for the purchase and driving of piles and the making of surveys by City Engineer F. C. Turner. There was no discussion when the resolution came up and its adoption was moved by Councilman F. F. Jackson, chairman of the wharves and water front committee. The Council adopted the following recommendation: That the Board of Public Works be authorized and requested to immediately commence the driving of piles at the portion of the water front of the city, commencing at a point 1100 feet northerly from the western extremity of the northern training wall; thence easterly parallel to said training wall to low tide line. Also commencing at the aforesaid point (1100 feet northerly of the western extremity of the northern training wall) thence northerly 1200 feet, more or less, thence easterly parallel with the northern training wall to low tide line. City Engineer Turner will proceed with the work within a few days, having waited for the final action of the Council in the matter. He has already laid his plans and secured options on piles.

TO FILE ESTIMATES.

All the heads of the departments of the city government will have to file with the city clerk on or before June 26th, their estimates of the needs of their departments for the new fiscal year, commencing July 1. The members of the City Council will then meet and consider these estimates and prepare the budget. The police and fire chiefs are to ask for additional money to that used for actual expenses, in order that their departments may be improved. There are also many applications for increases in salaries to be considered by the Council before making up the budget. The Council last night passed a resolution requesting that the estimates be furnished.

CALIFORNIA WOMAN BROKER SUES LANDLADY FOR TRUNK

Says New York Hotel Keeper Is Withholding Valuable Mining Stocks Unlawfully.

NEW YORK, June 18.—Miss Mina De Aubrey, who states that she is a mining broker and who came here from San Francisco, where she had been engaged in business and where she was rendered practically destitute by the conflagration last year, had Mrs. Lillian Scofield arrested yesterday for withholding her trunk, in which were mining stocks which she intended trying to market in the East.

Scofield's house on West Forty-first street several weeks ago, not knowing the character of it. The police raided it a few nights ago and she then sought to leave. Mrs. Scofield, who carried with her to the police station a bag containing $85,000 worth of diamonds, denied that she intended keeping the trunk. She received notoriety in 1888, when Nathaniel Hatch, a wealthy broker, fell from a window in her house here and was killed.

PLANS TO DEVELOP N. Y. COAST DEFENSE

WASHINGTON, June 18.—General Murray, chief of artillery, has returned from New York, where he was an observer of the joint operations of the regular coast artillerymen and the New York State militia in repelling the sham naval attack upon the defense of New York.

He now projects an extension of the plans for joint drills, based upon the fact, developed by the experience of last week, that the real weakness of New York's defense lies in the danger of an attack by a land force in the rear of the fortifications. It is proposed to divide the territory lying behind the forts into sections, each one covered by a force of militiamen. To each section will be assigned one company of guardsmen, whose business it would be to make a study of the topography of the country so thorough that the militiamen would know intuitively and in the darkest night just where lay every ridge and de-

WILL GIVE HEARING TO SANTA FE APPLICATION

The hearing of the application of the Santa Fe company for a franchise to construct and operate an industrial line on Twentieth street, from Wood to Adelphi street, an extension of their Wood street line, for which they were recently granted a franchise, was set last night by the City Council for July 15th. An ordinance which would grant the franchise was introduced into the Council and was referred to the ordinance and judiciary committee. The Santa Fe is to establish a freight terminal at Twentieth and Adelphi streets and asks for a fifty-year franchise on Twentieth street.

One of the attractive June weddings was that of Byron W. Clark and Miss Edith B. Nichols which was solemnized at the home of the bride's parents at 1151 Santa Fe avenue. The Rev. Wolcott H. Evans of the Golden Gate Presbyterian Church officiated. The bride is a native of California and has been one of the successful school teachers, having taught in the public schools of Crockett for the past three years. The bride-groom is an Oakland business man and a popular resident of North Oakland. Mr. and Mrs. Clark have gone on an Eastern trip of two months during which time they will visit Chicago and New York, returning by the Southern route. The young couple will make their home in North Oakland.

Shirts to Order

The Keller Quality

There is more than one way of making shirts. But there is just one way to make them right, and more than thirty years of intelligent, persistent study has taught us that way.

Scarcely a day passes but some one tells us we are the first to fit him properly.

We have the most skillful experts in the craft—our equipment is perfect.

The shirts we make fit in the most gratifying manner—not only while they are new, but through long service. Every line, every touch denotes artistic workmanship of the highest character.

You will be delighted with the comfort of perfect fitting shirts. You will be gratified with the collar bands that do not lose their adjustment by months of laundering. You will be pleased in a dozen ways besides the matter of fair price, if you wear the Keller shirts.

Then, too, our fabrics and patterns are different—and handsomer—than you'll find anywhere else.

IN THE LOCAL THEATERS

NANCE O'NEIL IS GREAT 'LEAH'

Tragedienne Gives Remarkable
Portrayal of Leading Character in "The Jewess."

Nance O'Neil added another triumph to her list last night at Ye Liberty theater as "Leah," the Jewess. The play is a translation from the German and has all but the principal element of a tragedy. There is the love scene, the rapid delirium of an outraged girl, but no blood is spilt. The curtain falls and the tragedy is left to the imagination. It might be a melodrama; it has the scheming villain, and the well worked out plot, but no climax is reached before the finale. As a play it lacks finish, the technique is bad, especially in act two, where "Nathan," the apostate

Jew, soliloquizes in a voice of thunder and of the fact that the host lies sick in the next room.

The mention of thunder prompts me to advise the management to provide stage properties that will produce a noise like thunder. The property used at present produces a hideous noise, resembling the pianissimo accompaniment at a Chinese funeral.

In the second scene of act two a party entered the hut, one carrying a lantern. The light effect artist apparently was asleep, for the lantern made no difference in lighting the hut—small things, but very essential to the success of the play, as well as acknowledging the intelligence of the audience.

The play, however, makes a splendid setting for the acting of a star, and Miss O'Neil fills its every requirement. It is the old story of human frailty, spurned love—the lie and the terrible vengeance. Sometimes one's intelligence suffers a shock, at other times it is the tender sensibilities that suffer. Nance O'Neil portrays rage, scorn, all the tenderness of the tigress, the wild madness of outraged love, wounded pride and the pathos of deserted misery. And then at the sight of her rival's child, "Little Leah," the iron bands round her heart are broken, the maternal instinct rules, and forgiveness is granted.

In the traits depicting the essential elements of inherent sadness, Miss O'Neil is weak. As "Joseph," as in comparison with the height of dramatic force she attains in showing the traits of hate and vengeance. The course scene is splendid, and intensely dramatic, as is the pathetic scene at the close of the last act. "Leah" is one of Miss O'Neil's strongest characters and she makes the play by sheer force of good acting.

Virginia Thornton as Lena is pleasing and Mr. Henry Shumner as "Nathan" made a hit. In the first two acts he did better work than I have seen done by any member of the company during the present engagement. Lander Stevens as "Joseph" was not striking, his punctuating every phrase with an audible sigh is very trying and would tend to denote an affection which I am sure does not exist. Stevens has buried many mannerisms and I hope he will consign this one to the grave of habit.

"The Jewess" will occupy the boards at Ye Liberty this week and should be seen by all lovers of good acting.

"The Fires of St. John," a great drama from the pen of Sudermann, the author of "Madga" and the "Sunken Bell," will be given next. The latter is at present creating a sensation in London as played by Julia Marlowe.

MACKAY SUTHERLAND.

BELL THEATER.

The Baker troupe of bicyclists may well furnish the feature act at the Bell Theater this week. Their act is an unusually good feature, probably the best of the kind ever seen in this city. The troupe includes five people and somehow they all manage to ride on the same bicycle at the same time. Incidentally they do about everything possible to be done on a bicycle, and then some. Another good act on the Bell's program is the skit furnished by Walter Schrode and Lizzie Mulvey. It is what is commonly termed as a "knockabout act," being a rough and tumble sort of comedy with laughs always on the surface. Acrobatic dancing of the bawdy style is a feature. There are motion pictures of Champion James J. Jeffries on his farm near Los Angeles. Jeff is pictured in his ancestral pursuit of feeding chickens, irrigating, cutting alfalfa, raking hay, loading hay and milking. The pictures suggest the idea that Jeffries has been leading an outdoor life that will prove to his advantage should he determine to return to the prize ring. Harry W. Webber and company offer a dramatic sketch entitled "The Sheriff of Lamar." It is bright and full of action. The Benetti sisters appear in a dancing and singing act and they scored a big last evening. Byington is clever as a ventriloquist. Arnold and Gardner have an amusing combination. Two reels of motion pictures complete the program.

world and holder of the Richard K. Fox world's championship gold medal, Belle Gordon, is the headliner at the Novelty Theater this week and her wonderful exhibition in punching and evading the swiftly flying pigskin is the most unique and truly interesting one that has ever been witnessed in this city. America's premier comedy four, The Lincolns, representing the novelty musical act, "Dippy's Dull Day," make a tremendous hit and are encircled to the echo. Reed Wiley and Evans, high-class colored entertainers, appear in a little bit of everything and as usual score a big hit. The laugh manufacturer, Jim Diamond, who is a graduate of the foolish factory, brings down the house and has established himself with the patrons of the Novelty. The wonderful female baritone, Miss Edith Williams, sings "The Tale of the Church Bells Told," which is accompanied by a series of beautifully illustrated slides. Miss May Melville, a clever singing comedienne, makes a good impression and renders some charming selections. The motion pictures are exceptionally interesting this week and will hold the attention of everybody. Reserved seats may be obtained at the box office, which opens each day at 11 a. m. Clayton, Jenkins and Jasper, direct from the White City in Chicago, will shortly appear at the Novelty and will be great favorites with Oakland theatergoers.

TWENTY YEAR SENTENCE
BREAKS PRISONER'S NERVE*IRA BUTLER PAYS
SEVERE PENALTY*Robber of the Albany
Cafe Quails at Judgment.

The first time since his arrest and conviction for robbery, Ira Butler appeared nervous in court when arraigned for sentence this morning before Superior Judge Melvin. He realized that a long sentence would be passed on him for the robbery of the Albany Buffet on the night of February 26th last, and when twenty years' imprisonment in the penitentiary at San Quentin was given him by Judge Melvin, he gritted his teeth and grasped the railing in front of the bar of justice.

Butler has always carried himself with an air of indifference and the night the jury found him guilty, he sat quiet and calm beside his attorneys as though he was about to be liberated. This morning all that spirit and bearing of the hero was gone and when Butler was led into court he had to be steadied by the bailiff. When he stepped up before the bar and Court Clerk Rudolph read the charge to him, he sunk low and clutched the railing as if he would drop any minute.

"I know it is the way of most convicted men to stand up here like hypocrites and profess innocence and claim they are being wrongfully persecuted," said my attorney. The court has been good to me and it is now up to me to take what the court will give to me." Both attorneys, George J. McDonough and E. J. Gehring, were present in court but did not make a talk for their client. They left it to Butler's hands to say what he could for himself.

Butler asked that he be sent to San Quentin instead of Folsom, which request was granted by the court. The young man is twenty-two years old and a printer by trade. Deputy District Attorney Phil M. Corey, who prosecuted Butler, has learned that he served two years in the penitentiary for a Nashua, Tenn., for grand larceny. The pictures from there positively identify Butler. This was not admitted in evidence during the trial, for the defendant did not like the stand in his own behalf. Every presumption was left with the jury to deliberate on the circumstances of the case.

Had Butler not fired the shot as he backed out of the rear door of the Albany saloon, his sentence would not have been quite so heavy. After he had stood up the five or six men in the saloon and gathered the $467.51 from the cash register and safe, he walked out backward and let fire a shot at the floor in the direction of bartender William Stewart. Stewart returned the fire and the shots attracted the attention of the people passing along Broadway. Butler was seen to cross the street and run into an alley off of Sixteenth street, near Telegraph avenue. He quickly changed his clothes and threw the money and revolvers in a garbage barrel when they were found the next morning by a scavenger.

Butler was caught by the police in the alley before he could get away. None of the men in the saloon could positively identify the youth as the robber, but circumstances were so strong that the jury could find no alternative but sign the verdict of guilty after a few minutes' deliberation. Butler has admitted to some persons that he was the man who done the Nashua, Tenn., for grand larceny. The pictures from there positively identify Butler. This was not admitted in evidence during the trial, for the defendant did not like the stand in his own

Heroes of Playmates---Thrilling Rescue of Falling Girl;

AS BIG HEROES

Holding their three young playmates up as heroes and anxious to do them a good turn, although the latter are safe under lock and key in the juvenile department of the Receiving Hospital, Tony Gomes of Henry street, a youngster in his teens, and Frank Joseph, of 157 Fifth street, a brother of one of the imprisoned boys, led a crowd of boys to the hospital this morning to see the trio of youthful robbers.

The arrest of George Silva, thirteen years old, of 1555 15th street, Pete Joseph, eleven years old, of 1555 Fifth street, and Charles Freis, ten years old, of 1552 Third street, was quickly heralded through boyville in West Oakland, and this morning the other members of the "gang" attempted to gain admittance to the prison where the youngsters are held pending the action of the probation officer.

"What do you want around here?" inquired Stewart Borchert when the boys crowded into the hospital.

"We want to see the kids locked up," quickly answered young Frank Joseph.

"Come tomorrow, or the next day," was the instructions from Borchert. "Well, come on, mister, we have a word or two to say to our pals in here, and the bunch wants to see 'em. We ain't goin' to steal the kids from you. No, we didn't help them in anything. I never was out near Fruitvale where the kids stole the money and broke the piano. I was just standing by the little fellow who was being taken away. I was just standing by the little fellow who was being taken away. I was just standing by the little fellow who was being taken away."

It was not until Stewart Borchert and Attendant Travers chased the boys away that they were permitted to enter the hospital.

RAIDS BY WHOLESALER.

The detained boys were arrested Sunday by Constable Allen and when questioned they learned that they had broken into a coal yard and a butcher store in Fruitvale and robbed the tills. At the Fruitvale Congregational church they had forced their way in and tore the piano to pieces to see what made the music play. At the church they also broke open the Christian Endeavor money box, taking a small sum it contained. The many party robberies were reported to the constable, who could not apprehend the source of the trouble until Sunday when he saw the boys burning several boxes of matches. They told Allen that they had stolen the matches, and when locked in the Fruitvale jail, confessed to the other robberies. Each boy blames the other and claims he was led into the crimes.

LOST BABY BOY RESCUED FROM WILD ANIMALS

BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.

BOISE, Ida., June 18.—Toddling along in a wide-spread grassy field, his throat parched with a thirst of forty hours, his sturdy little legs torn and bleeding from blar thorns, the 13-month-old boy baby of Lawrence Maish, reading near Caldwell, was found yesterday alive and prattling with mud, his hands and feet almost inedible. He was found in the heart of the sagebrush, where the chances were many that the little fellow would have been entirely overlooked. As Henry Hankthorne, one of the searchers, led his posse to the boy, he saw the little fellow looking up, wide-eyed at the strange man in blue flannel shirt and wide-brimmed hat, and then he saw the mother.

PONY CAUGHT HIM.

"Pony, baby, pony," the youngster questioned with glistering eyes. "You bet you can, baby, pony, old heart," cried Hankthorne. Tenderly the rough man picked the baby up in his arms and galloped away to join the other searchers and convey the glad news to the terrified parents. The boy's mother, who had been carried along by the searchers, many of whom were today far more exhausted than the boy, saw the little fellow given a big tin cup filled to the brim. He drank all the milk and then, for a moment, he was his own little king. He began to cry for more.

The case of the boy, assembled in many of its features the recent disappearance of 4-year-old Horace Marvin in Delaware, although there is no suggestion that the boy is a missing child of a far happier termination. Mrs. Marsh started out in the sage brush Saturday morning, and her husband followed her, and she was followed by the boy. Unknown to her the child followed and was found by the searchers. Two hours later the search began.

ALL NIGHT SEARCH.

All Saturday night the neighbors of the Marsh family kept to the fields and Monday morning their numbers were augmented by the volunteers from the city of Caldwell and Emmett. No trace of the boy was found until Sunday morning, when he was found in the heart of the sagebrush. He was found by the searchers, and he was found by the searchers.

RESCUE OF BABY
BY ITS SISTER

CHICAGO, June 18.—Falling from a fourth floor porch, two-year-old Vera Mouse escaped uninjured yesterday because her eight-year-old sister, Gladys, at the risk of her own life, rushed beneath the falling child and caught her in her arms.

"I caught her just like a basket ball," Gladys explained after she picked her sister up unhurt from the ground on which she and the rescued baby had rolled. Gladys' attention was attracted by the scream of a woman who lives in the third flat. "She was on her back porch and saw the child fall from the top of the railing fifty feet to the back yard where Gladys was playing."

Mrs. Mouse also saw her child topple off. Supposing it meant instant death she started to go down stairs. On the way she swooned and fell headlong down one flight, suffering slight bruises and a severe nervous shock. She is under a physician's care.

LEADS IN FIGHT*Harvard Graduate Is

VICTORIA, B. C., June 18.—Further victories regarding the rebellion in South China received by the steamer Montevideo yesterday state that Sun Yat Sen, a Harvard graduate, who for years has been organizing an anti-dynastic movement in China, left Tokio a few weeks before the outbreak and is reported leading the revolutionists near Swatow, having taken the field May 22, and opened operations by attacking the walled city of Kwang Kong, which was easily captured and all officials were killed. Kaoping and Lin Chung suffered similar fates.

The government troops on the island of Manwo were attacked on May 27th and defeated, the revolutionists then marching upon Cha Chow, which also fell into rebel hands and all the officials were promptly killed. Thousands of refugees fled to Swatow, where foreign warships assembled to protect the city. The rebels carry banners inscribed "National Army of Central Republic of China" and "General Sun Yat Sen," and, following the example set by the Tai Ping, they are posting notices that any of their followers who offer violence or death to people who do not oppose them will be summarily killed and that arms and accoutrements will be given to all who join, none being compelled to do so.

foreign style and have removed their queues. Japanese newspapers, commenting on the rising state that the accessibility of the district will prevent the rebels getting such headway without encountering serious opposition as during the Tai Ping outbreak, but all regard the outbreak as serious, as Sun Yat Sen has been organizing the movement for many years and is believed to have the support of secret societies and other organizations throughout the empire. The Jih Shing-pao, which prints dispatches from its own correspondent regarding the rebellion, says that with the rebel and Chinese armed troops of modern China the revolution must be crushed.

GRAND JUROR SANBORN

SAN FRANCISCO, June 18.—Rudolph Spreckels was on the witness stand in Judge Lawlor's court yesterday afternoon during a motion to quash the indictments against Patrick Calhoun et al. He was asked some pertinent questions by Attorney A. A. Moore for the defense. An effort was made by Mr. Moore to find out who Spreckels is backing to succeed Gallagher as Mayor.

Moore questioned Spreckels concerning a rumored plan to keep the present grand jury in office until the adjournment of the municipal nominating convention, where, it was suggested, Rudolph Spreckels intends to put forward a member of the present grand jury, Fred G. Sanborn, as candidate of the reform forces for Mayor. "Our Mayor," said Moore to Spreckels. Upon Henry's objection, Spreckels was prevented from satisfying public curiosity upon this much-debated question.

$20,000 Bribe Fund for Fights Will Entangle Coffroth, Graney, Britt and Levy in Prosecution's Web.

SAN FRANCISCO, June 18.—The indictment mill is ready to grind again, and James W. Coffroth, Eddie Graney, Willis Britt and Maurice Levy are to be indicted for bribing the Supervisors through Abraham Ruef in order to secure exclusive fight permits for the year.

$20,000 was the total amount subscribed for the purpose of bribing the Supervisors. Graney, Coffroth, Britt and Levy contributed $500 each to this fund. According to Morris Levy, who has made a full confession to Detective Burns, the $20,000 was given to Ruef by Eddie Graney, Willis Britt and Maurice Levy, who acted as the agent of the fallen boss.

It is generally understood the testimony will show that Graney was also responsible for the bribery, as it is claimed by Levy that he explained to the other members of the trust that it would be impossible for them to secure permits unless Ruef was given $20,000.

Of this $20,000 the Supervisors received $500 apiece. The Ruef and the Mayor divided $10,000. Ruef has already admitted to the prosecution that he received the $20,000 from Graney and, according to one story, he stated that Willis Britt was present at his office when the money was passed. The Supervisors have testified under oath that they received $500 each for granting the exclusive permits, and Gallagher has admitted under oath before the grand jury that Ruef gave him $10,000 to distribute among the other members of the board.

So it looks like a perfect case all around, and as the trials resulting from the indictments thus far have ended stonily, the outlook for the bribe-fighting sports is black indeed.

ARISTOCRATIC
CHAUFFEURS

There Are Just as Many of Them in France as in the United States.

PARIS, June 18.—In France the position of chauffeur is now considered to be one that younger and impetuous sons of good families may accept without compromising their social position.

A young baron who recently got rid of the whole of his fortune in a very short time after attaining his majority has now accepted the position of chauffeur to the Princess Guy de Faucigny-Lucigne, and declares he is very happy and comfortable.

State fund will be ready at this office Friday morning. Send for same and distribute to the teachers. The contract books for 1907-1908 will be ready tomorrow morning. Send for them and use the same in making up your requisitions for 1907-1908. Remember except those that have the amounts carried out according to instructions heretofore given. Have all closing exercises on the afternoon of Friday, June 21. Respectfully,
City Superintendent Schools.

Noted Ruler Declares Suit Not Clear Name.

PARIS, June 18.—A short while ago it was Mile Carlier, the beautiful and talented French actress, who brought an action against Moutan Pasha, living in the Champs Elysees, Paris, for having abused her confidence in fraudulently keeping her jewels. The defendant was sentenced to a week's imprisonment.

Now it is the turn of Moutan Pasha. He appealed against the sentence and won his cause. Now he has brought an action against Mile Carlier for slander. He claims damages of one franc, and the insertion of the judgment in fifty French and foreign newspapers to be chosen by himself. He says he does not act thus in order to annoy Mile Carlier in any way, but he is anxious to clear his name of any scandal attaching to it, and this is the most effective way.

SAYS JURORS BOASTED OF INTENTION TO 'FIX' CALHOUN

Counsel for United Railroads Claims That Members of the Grand Jury Were Hostile to His Client.

A. A. Moore and Stanley Moore, of this city, who have been retained for the defense of Patrick Calhoun, of the United Railroads, were asked today what was the purpose of the defense, so far as the proceedings thus far taken in court were concerned. Stanley Moore replied as follows:

"We intend to show that the evidence before the grand jury did not warrant them in returning indictments, and that we ought to be permitted to show the court what this evidence consisted of in order to have the jury see for itself that our contention is true and that the indictments should be set aside.

"In point of fact, the only transcript of testimony before the grand jury consisted of the 'confessions' of the supervisors given months ago. We believe the prosecution excused the stenographer from the grand jury room while Ruff and other witnesses were testifying, and that the purpose of concealing the nature of their testimony and rendering it difficult for us to set aside these indictments—by making it extremely difficult for us to show what this testimony was.

"We claim also that Rudolph Spreckels, who is the head of a rival street car corporation, largely brought about these indictments, and that he and Francis J. Heney urged and advised members of the grand jury to vote in favor of them.

"Furthermore, certain members of this grand jury are very hostile to the United Railroads, and have boasted of the trouble that they were going to cause it.

"As a matter of fact, this grand jury was not empaneled in accordance with the requirements of the law. No notice was given of its empanelment. There were too many names in the box from which it was drawn, and Jas. E. Gordon was disqualified from serving upon it through having been drawn from the box in April, 1906, when the Brennan grand jury was drawn."

MRS. MARTIN EXPLAINS HER INSURANCE GRIEVANCES

Oakland Woman Declares That a $500 Compromise Was Offered on $1500 Fire Loss.

NEW YORK, June 18.—Mrs. Isabelle J. Martin, of Oakland, California, better known on the Pacific Coast as Mrs. John Martin, or Mrs. Hoffman Martin, would like to present George R. Crawford, president of the Westchester Fire Insurance Company, with a bouquet and not a bullet.

Identified herself today as the woman who was reported to have come to New York to kill Mr. Crawford.

"I left my pistol behind in my mining camp," Mrs. Martin said. "Mr. Crawford shall live if Providence consents me in the matter. I believe in letting such men live to suffer."

In her apartments at number 86 Madison avenue, where she is living with her son, John, aged fifteen, she said tonight:

"One of my missions in coming to New York was to see Mr. Crawford. The Westchester Company insured one of my houses in Oakland for $1700 and the place was burned to the ground five years ago. I was refused payment in full on the policy and the case was taken into court.

"I called on Mr. Crawford at his office two weeks ago and was received by Mr. Kelley, the assistant secretary. I made no threat against Mr. Crawford. Secretary Brown received me on a subsequent visit and offered to pay me $500 in settlement of my claim. I refused the offer. Concerning the published report that I went to Mr. Crawford's home to kill him, I did present myself at his residence on Stevens avenue, Mount Vernon, but with no thought of violence."

POSTPONE SALE OF PARK BONDS

Council Decides City Will Secure Better Bids When Money Is Easier.

The park bonds were not offered for sale last night by the City Council, and the time for receiving bids was set for August 5. There were a number of capitalists in the lobby last night, waiting to offer bids, and they were somewhat surprised when the announcement of the continuance was made.

Councilman Pendleton addressed the Council, saying: "The members of the City Council, in conference with the Mayor, have decided to postpone the sale of the park bonds until August 5th. The reason for this is that there is a financial stringency in this market and all over the United States. We will be largely benefited by selling the bonds when money is easier. A postponement will mean several thousands in bonuses."

EVIDENCE OF GREATER OAKLAND'S POSITION

Now an Important Mail-Order City and Supplies Towns Two Hundred Miles Distant.

In conversation with Mr. A. L. Lavenson, of the Luce House, a few days ago, a TRIBUNE reporter learned of a new feature to the commercial life of Greater Oakland which is destined to grow and to be of great benefit. It was ascertained that a large quantity of mail orders are coming in from many sources, which reflects great credit upon the character of merchandise, and the general impression that exists favorable to mercantile enterprises in Greater Oakland.

This reflects credit upon Oakland newspapers which show the magnitude and generality of their circulation.

Such stores as Capwell Luce Co. are as competent to handle mail order deals as any San Francisco concern.

In course of conversation Mr. Lavenson gave out the encouraging news that the Luce House Co. did 10 per cent more business in May of 1907, than of 1906. This is a remarkable statement when it is taken into consideration that in May, 1906 thousands of people were compelled to replenish their wardrobes on account of the fire and there were many thousands living here then who have sought residence elsewhere.

Such encouraging reports should be taken with much satisfaction by the citizens. Oakland is daily attracting the attention of thousands of people in the various Northern California counties.

PASS TO PRINT NEW BUILDING ORDINANCE

The new building ordinance, long in course of preparation, was presented in the City Council last night, read a second time and passed to print. Councilman Burns was the only member voting "no" on the motion to pass to print.

The ordinance fills 128 pages of typewritten foolscap and is embraced in 311 sections. Its title is:

"An ordinance regulating the construction, erection, enlargement, raising, alteration, repairing, removal, maintenance, use and height of buildings; regulating character and use of materials in and for buildings, and repealing all ordinances in conflict with this ordinance, and providing a penalty for violation thereof."

JAPAN OFFERS CHINA LIBERAL MEASURES

MUKDEN, June 18.—Viscount Hayashi, foreign minister of Japan, followed the Viceroy of Mukden here and the two held a long consultation at the Haushichang today.

In regard to Japan's position and policy in Manchuria, Viscount Hayashi said to the correspondent of the Associated Press that he regretted many incidents which had taken place during the military regime, but expressed a willingness to accede to China's just claims, especially in the matter of certain houses and lands which constitute a minor difference. Here Japan would be able to compromise, as she desires to be conciliatory, but he would insist upon adherence to a liberal interpretation of the treaty as in the case of the requirements of the Yalu timber company, which China is not disposed to concede.

The West Oakland park has been in course of construction for some time and the additional amount is necessary to complete the plans of adornment and beautification.

FAILURE OF PROMOTERS TO GET PERMIT COMMENTED

Fight Fans Are Far From Sure That Britt-Nelson Battle Will Come Off on the Third of July.

By EDDIE SMITH.

The San Francisco Supervisors yesterday failed to issue Alex Gregg's fight permit and he is still without the required legal document that just at present is so valuable. With the proposed Britt-Nelson fight only a little over two weeks off, it is high time the city fathers granted the permission to hold the contest. The uncertain actions of the supervisors would lead one to believe that the Britt-Nelson fight, under the leadership of Billy Nolan, was undesirable and a thing that the cleaned grafters did not want. The failure of the Britt-Nelson fight, under the leadership of Billy Nolan, was undesirable and a thing that the cleaned grafters did not want. WONDER IF THEY'LL BOTH COME OFF?

PRESENT SERIES OF BALL GAMES FULL OF INTEREST

If Oakland Trims the Beavers and the Seals Down the Angels Oakland Will Be Close Up.

By T. P. MAGILLIGAN.

This will be a portentous week in baseball. The way the clubs of the Pacific Coast league are bunched and the schedule for the coming week insures issues of much interest to the fans.

Our own Prides will take a whack at the Portland team, and if they are as successful against that aggregation as they have been in the series just closed with San Francisco we may begin to look for the name "Oakland" at the top of the pennant race.

While our lads are striving to beat the Portland team San Francisco will be pitted against the Los Angeles. Here's one, fight the local fans can watch with interest.

The loyal patrons of this city will be in the position of the Southern League, who saw a little scramble between a "nigger" and a black bear. When the "cullud gemmen" and the "cullud" bear began to belabor each other, the Southern gent sat back and drawled ferociously: "Go it, B! Go it, Nigger!"

That's just the position the Oakland fan will be in. He can root to his heart's content, for he will be in a position to root for both teams, and no matter which wins it will be Oakland's gain.

Of course, we've got pennant aspirations. That little bee's sort of a cousin of the whole team's and he's certainly buzzing some in the bonnet of the Oakland players.

Naturally, the Oakland fans would rather see San Francisco win. We want to keep the pennant in California, and since Los Angeles has the stomach to harbor Gentlemen (?) Morley in its midst we are not over certain that that burg is in this State or in some foreign nation.

Besides, if the Seals larrup the Angels some, and we have any sort of luck at Portland, first thing you know we'll be the talk of the heap and sort of looking down with scorn at the other bunch.

Anyhow, no matter what way Dame Fortune casts her smiles in the Los Angeles-San Francisco series the Oakland fan will be in that delightful position of the Southern "gent" observing "B'r'er Bear and B'r'er Coon." We can shout "Go it, B'r'er Angel! Go it, B'r'er Seal!" with all the gusto of a new convert at a revival meeting, and with no pain or outward conscience.

President Ed Walter of the Oakland baseball club was the author of a bit of baseball logic that should be seriously considered by every fan and baseball scribe in the Coast league.

"There has been a tendency to belittle Walter McCredie's efforts to give to Portland the proper sort of place on the part of the fan. Every fan shouting from house tops to McCredie to get players and strengthen up. Now let me tell you," said Mr. Walter, "this is much easier said than done. To get a player taken in the soft job, I've tried it myself at different times and know from experience that it is next to impossible to get likely young ball players if you go to Mr. Smith of Oakland and try to buy his star player, Jones, Smith will hand you the 'nifty' stare, and inform you that he's got a chance to win the pennant in the 'Gouber League' and that if he lets Jones go the attendance would drop from 69 to 23. This would never

Hollister Team Wins Good Game

HOLLISTER, June 18.—The crack Hollister team, one of the best semi-professional teams in California, took the J. S. Williams team of San Jose into camp last Sunday at Hollister by the score of 8 to 4.

The Hollister boys played a great game. D. Jensen pitched in rare form while D. Young did some of the best hitting in the history of the game. The Alameda played well, and they accepted the chances sent their way in great shape.

Pensacola Beats Hayward Nine

GOAT ISLAND, June 18.—Pensacola defeated the fast Hayward team Saturday afternoon by a score of 7 to 1. Murphy was in the box for the sailors and he held the heavy hitters safe up to the eighth, in which inning three bingles put the lone tally over for the visitors. It was a very interesting contest at all stages, particularly the close of the game. Pensacola was in the lead from the start and they held their batting clothes and touched Blenheim up for eleven safe ones. The score:

TURF INTERESTING NOTES ABOUT RACING MATTERS GOSSIP

By LEE DEMIER.

Getaway week was ushered in with a vengeance. Only those in the know got the coin at Williams park yesterday. The straight favorites were disastrously bowled over, but the bookies fared none too well, as a number of good things were put over the plate.

Barney Schreiber's bay colt, Irish Mike, made a hard combination to beat in the opening race, and at the pleasing odds of 1 to 1, grabbed the brackets from the hands of the favorites. Athletes to Hold Important Meeting

The next meeting of the Pacific Athletic Association will take the form of a dinner and will be held in San Francisco next Monday evening. This will be the first opportunity the delegates will have of meeting the new president, Sidney P. Scott, and as he has declared that he will be active in the athletic world and has a clear idea of what he proposes to do the meeting should be rather interesting to athletic followers of this Coast.

Jackson Company Defeats Reliance

The crack baseball team of the Jackson Furniture Company added another victory to their string Sunday by defeating by a score of 11 to 8 the Reliance A. C. team.

Heavy hitting in the ninth inning won the game. The features of the game were the playing of Adamina of the Jacksons and the work of Nelson on first for the Reliance. The three-base hit of Clark of the Jacksons in the ninth practically won the game.

Cosgrove Stars Defeat Domestic

The Cosgrove Stars of East Oakland defeated the Domestic nine in a hard played game at the Lake diamond last Saturday by a score of 10 to 7. Hunters Will Have To Carry License

The decrees of Isaac Walton and Nimrod of this State will be enforced by the State Game Commission. Their intention of deadly assaults on the feather and finny tribes, after that date, dear hunter, also dear fisherman, don't forget that you have to carry a license. It is in accordance with the recent act passed by the solons at Sacramento.

These licenses are in the shape of little round badges, and must be presented upon demand by the proper authorities. And don't forget that a dollar will not do in lieu of the regular license. To citizens of the State the license will cost $1, to citizens of other States the license will be $1.50, and to aliens the tax will be $2.50. County Clerk John P. Cook estimates that 2000 will be required for Alameda County, and has put in a requisition for that number.

Carranza to Box For Central Club

The Central Club has signed up its card for next Friday evening and six bouts of a well-balanced character make up the program. In the wind-up Carranza, a welterweight who has been meeting with considerable success in other sections of California, will clash with Kyle Whitney, the coldest boxer of this city. Carranza knocked out Jack Burke in one round and has also fought and earned draws with Joe Angell, Joe Carroll and Benjie Hart. Three special events are also arranged between Johnny Murdock and Charlie Reilly, that Reardon vs. Joe McDonald, Summers is the Canadian middleweight and is the first man that Reardon has been pitted against who does not outweigh him. Emmack and Miles over Willie O'Neil, the Australian. Two preliminaries will complete the card.

Torrif Tales for Turf Followers

After Proper and won the fourth race at Coney Island a regular of the minor grade was full of woe. Said he: "An appetite is an awful thing. I just had $1 after getting to the track, and I debated a long time between lunch and a parlor on Collector Jessup and Proper. But my appetite got the best of the argument. I figure that lunch cost me just $42."

The veteran, H. G. Crickmore, has his troubles now and then while weighing jockeys back of the scales room. While Knapp was on the scales at Gravesend one afternoon Romanelli stood alongside of him with a faraway look in his eyes. "What are you doing here?" queried Mr. Crickmore. "I want to weigh in," replied Romanelli, sheepishly.

"Don't ask me," murmured the Jockey, with a blank stare.

Mr. Crickmore glowered at him with a withering look over the top of his glasses, and the diminutive rider melted suddenly away to a frazzle.

Just after Proper was beaten at Gravesend one day a man who saw the race from the jockey box stepped up to a factor of the ground. He looked as if he had dropped dead from heart trouble, and 200 men crowded around him. A doctor called to his aid and pronounced him alive, whereupon a Pinkerton shook him by the arm and asked him what was the matter. The man opened his eyes slowly and gasped: "I lost on that race. All I had."

"You dare do it?" queried a hard-hearted bystander.

"Two dollars," was the faint reply.

"You saw the race?" queried the crowd.

"All I had with me." The crowd laughed.

Ex-Jockey Brady and a couple of his "pals" got themselves into the toils at Hot Springs one day under a charge of cruelty to animals. The three young men went up to Haystack Hollow, hired a trio of donkeys, rode them to the top of the mountain, and then administered to each of the long-eared brutes a concoction of drugs which in due time produced unusual animation. The donkeys, as one might expect, were very much wild, and with the glowing lights mounted upon their backs they took the mountain road down the hill. The donkeys were braying all the while until the peaceful denizens of Haystack Hollow were startled out of their wits. Not until the braying brutes were utterly exhausted did they show any disposition to stop.

He was an ancient party. His clothes were frayed and faded and of a vintage of the long ago. His field glasses looked like the antique Noah might have carried on his cruise and hung from his shoulder by a stout wine string. He was an object of sympathy and he seemed to be sent in the parlor car of a home coming race train. But when he, without the least bit of hesitation, administered to the sympathizing feeling vanished. After the bills had all been assembled and he rolled back down the hill, he was found to have a Liverpool and were safely stowed, the ancient one settled back to recovery.

"Get your drink," he called, "hang out an official in blue uniform."

The reveler ended instantly.

"What's the matter?" he had to pay extra to ride in this train?" the ancient one asked of his neighbor.

"You dare do it?" was the response.

And the ancient one did a two step out to the car platform, where he begged a brass wheel to Long Island City.

LATEST NEWS FROM WEST OAKLAND

S. P. MONTHLY PAY ROLL TWO HUNDRED THOUSAND Western Division Embraces an Empire in Itself—Motive Power Plant Is Kept Very Busy.

WEST OAKLAND, June 18.—About $200,000 was distributed yesterday among the Southern Pacific company's employees in this city. It was "pay day" and "Bunker Hill Day." The double event seemed to please even the Greeks, Italians and Slavs in the railroad yards. American flags floated from the tall staffs in the yards and when the pay checks were passed out there were smiles and jokes exchanged between the men.

In the motive power department alone the monthly pay roll here is from $30,000 to $100,000; in the car department about $30,000. The other departments bring the total up to about $200,000 turned loose in this city every month by the Southern Pacific company.

BIG WESTERN DIVISION.

Comparatively few persons seem to have more than a faint conception of the magnitude of the western division of the Southern Pacific's railway system, whose headquarters is here. It embraces nearly 1000 miles of track. The territory covered extends from Oakland on various lines to Sacramento, to Fresno on the south, to San Jose, to Ramsey above Elmira, to Santa Rosa, to St. Helena, to Calistoga. This is quite a big railway system in itself.

In the motive power department of this big division there are employed not fewer than 1200 men, including engineers and firemen, but exclusive of the car department and all others, such as the yard masters, the planning mill, commissary, marine ways, paint shops, etc. There are 222 locomotive engines in use on this western division, and to maintain these in repair the local machine shops are kept busy the year around. Besides much repair work is done for the Belt Line, controlled by the Board of State Harbor Commissioners, the E. B. and A. L. Stone company and the Mammoth Copper company.

BIGGER YARDS COMING.

In all directions and in every department the Southern Pacific company yards are constantly being enlarged and improved, and eventually it is admitted by heads of these departments that the company will have great yards here equipped to handle many times as much work as is now taken care of.

On the necessity for increased facilities, Superintendent J. E. French of the motive power department said: "The growth of both freight and passenger traffic compels us to have more facilities for handling the business. I recall when I was master mechanic at Bakersfield it was said that after a road was constructed on the Coast line we would have little hauling over Tehachapi. The same prophesies were made when the Santa Fe was building. But the result really is that traffic business has so increased that it is difficult to handle it, and withstanding there are three lines in operation where but one did it all."

DEADLY POISON LURKS IN CLAWS OF PLAYFUL KITTEN

Railway Agent J. R. Abby Dies From Small Scratch Inflicted by Pet Cat in Play.

WEST OAKLAND, June 18.—Many of the railroad employees residing here who personally knew Station Agent J. R. Abby at Puento, in Southern California, will be grieved to learn of his death, which occurred yesterday. Abby was formerly general superintendent of the Oregon Pacific and had a unique record as an official and philanthropist.

His death was due to a scratch from a pet cat. Abby was playing with the animal several days ago, when one of its claws struck his hand, merely pricking the skin. In a short time his arm began swelling. Yesterday his condition became so serious that two physicians were called, and under their treatment he was apparently recovering, and danger was not apprehended until ten minutes before death.

Abby, though but little over 50, was general superintendent of the Oregon Pacific until 1895, and was regarded as a particularly conscientious and able man. He was continually urging upon the company the necessity of keeping the road in better repair than was indicated by the public, and his recommendations were required. His recommendations were shelved, and then a wreck occurred at a place where condemned and two persons were killed. He promptly resigned through a sense of duty, and did not have to go to the back door to give honorable house-keeper washing. I have more honorable patrons than can wash for. Pay me nothing, no wash for you no more, honorable lady."

The hostess and her guests, profoundly surprised, put it down that the Jap must be nothing less than a prince in disguise.

TELEGRAPHERS ARE WAITING

Western Union Operators Holding Meetings, but Not Expected to Strike.

WEST OAKLAND, June 18.—Waiting to hear from Chicago headquarters of their labor union, the Western Union Telegraph company's 165 telegraphers here have been holding meetings, but taking no decisive action. Like their fellow employees all over the United States, they think that an increase of pay from $88 to $110 a month and a decrease of hours from nine to eight a day is due them, considering the increased cost of living and everything else.

Superintendent May and other local officials, however, believe that the official of the company today. "The company last March granted an increase of ten per cent in wages. I do not think there will be a strike here in this, the main office of the company in this State."

WESTERN PACIFIC IS MAKING DIRT FLY

WEST OAKLAND, June 18.—Attorney Charles E. Snook, who is head of the Western Pacific company's local law department, informed a TRIBUNE reporter today that if the city grants the additional 50-foot strip of right of way across the waterfront to deep water, where the company's terminal is located, it will in no wise effect the present plans of depot and slips for the construction of which bids have been invited.

"What the additional strip of land is wanted for is to provide more room for the expected traffic," said Attorney Snook, "so that the company can be more expeditiously handled."

He added that at present the Western Pacific construction work is proceeding very rapidly. "Why, between this city and Niles, where few few people would think much grading would be necessary, there are deep cuts and big fills under way. The Western Pacific is making the dirt fly these days all along the line of its road in this State."

BIGGEST WATER TANK IN WEST

It Has Just Been Completed for Southern Pacific Yards, and Holds 350,000 Gallons.

WEST OAKLAND, June 18.—The biggest water tank on the Pacific Coast, the new one in the Southern Pacific Railroad yards, has been completed and is now receiving a finishing coat of paint. The tank has a capacity of 350,000 gallons. Its floor is twenty-two feet above the tracks in the new yards and from it will radiate pipes all through the new machine shops and new round house. The elevation of twenty-two feet above tracks will give good pressure.

Foundation piles are being driven for the new store room 40x50 feet in dimensions, and workmen are beginning to put a roof on the new machine shop. The new round house will be occupied, it is expected, about September 1st, but not before the new machine shops and offices are occupied. There is a lot of filling-in yet to be done in the yards where these improvements are located.

There were nineteen engines in the machine shops today undergoing heavy or general repairs.

Beginning this evening a three-nights' roller skating match will begin at the local rink on Seventh street. The contestants will be James Kennedy and Fred Brown, of the Lakeside rink; and Ernest Bynum and Willie Walker, of West Oakland. The match is to be skated off tonight, Thursday and Saturday nights. A valuable prize will be awarded the victors.

Engineer C. A. Clark, who has been twenty-seven years on the Seventh street local, has taken the branch run out of Elmina.

Engineer W. S. Getchell, who was on the run between Niles and San Jose, now has the run from San Jose to Oakland.

Engineer N. E. Smith, of Calistoga, is visiting old friends here.

JAP LAUNDRYMAN IS TRULY INDEPENDENT

WEST OAKLAND, June 18.—Dr. Collins is telling a good story at the expense of a woman patient, whose name he declines to divulge, though he vouches for the truth of the incident. His patient, he says, not being served by the steam laundry she had patronized, his employees having been on strike nearly two months, she sent him to a Japanese laundry. A week or more elapsed before a young Jap rang the front door bell. He had brought the family washing—a huge bundle, and walked into the hall while the hostess' guests at a "pink tea" looked on gleefully.

"Go around to the back door and deliver that package to the house-keeper," exclaimed the hostess with some signs of vexation in her tones.

"Honorable lady, I not have go to back door to give honorable house-keeper washing. I have more honorable patrons than can wash for. Pay me nothing, no wash for you no more, honorable lady."

The hostess and her guests, profoundly surprised, put it down that the Jap must be nothing less than a prince in disguise.

OSTEOPATHS WILL MEET IN THIS CITY

Arrangements for the holding of the annual convention of the State Osteopathic Association in this city were completed yesterday. Although the date has not yet been set, it is thought the convention will be held on June 28 and 29. The choice of this city was made after a hot contest between medical men of Sacramento, Stockton, Fresno and other places, and for some time it seemed that San Francisco would be given San Francisco, where it was held two years ago. Dr. Earnest Sisson, of the State Board of Examiners, extended an invitation to Oakland, and the city was finally decided upon.

Following a general discussion on the work of the association and the transaction of routine business, papers on scientific subjects pertaining to osteopathy will be read by one of the discussed will be the significance of disease symptoms, physical affections, practical osteopathy, applied gynecology in osteopathy, nephritis, scoliosis, anisotropia and hygienic science.

JAPAN HOLDS BLOODY "DRIVE" OF FORMOSANS

VICTORIA, B. C., June 18.—Advises from Formosa by the steamer Montague tell of brisk fighting between the Japanese and Formosan natives. The Japanese have organized drives with daily extended time, gradually forcing back the moas, and number three-fifths of Formosa guerrilla warfare in which numerous camp followers were killed, 6000 Japanese troops were sent to drive the natives into submission.

The program is that each advance is made permanently by construction of roads etc. To date 1375 square miles have been covered in this manner. The natives are fleeing desperately.

The Truth About Doctors

"What do doctors know about the use of drugs?" I was asked the other day. "Practically nothing at all." This extract from an editorial, which appeared in "The Examiner" some time ago, explains it in a few words.

"Today very little is known of medicine and its use. The wisest doctor can do but little more than clear out of the system or accelerate the action of the heart. When he has done both or all of these things he has reached the end. Doctors can't cure."

The reason most doctors can't cure is because they use the wrong means—drugs. They would help Nature they would be able to accomplish a cure, but instead of that they work against Nature.

You know that drugs contain no nourishment, just poison which destroys. What Nature needs is nourishment—something to build up—not tear down. Electricity is that nourishment. Feed it to your nerves and they will absorb it, just as a sponge absorbs water, and carry it to every organ and tissue of your body. Where it gives energy and strength to all weak parts.

Your body is run by electricity. It's the lack of electricity that causes sickness and disease. When you have a full supply of electric energy you are healthy and strong. Electricity is the power that makes you restore health; so can't you see that drugs won't give you this force? Human electricity comes from the food you eat. The digestive juices of the stomach burn the food and produce this power, which is forced through the nerves to run the human machine.

Then you hope your stomach with drugs you decrease your supply of electric energy, for drugs upon the stomach, rendering it unable to generate this force.

Help Nature cure by restoring electricity where it is needed. My Electro-Vigor does this while you sleep. It saturates the nerves with its glowing power, and these conduct the force to the part that is ailing and quickly restore trouble. Electro-Vigor is a relief from the old system of drugging. It removes the cause of disease, and when that is done no pain or sickness can exist.

Electro-Vigor is not an electric belt. It is a dry-cell body battery and makes its own power continuously. There is no charging to do—just put it on and turn on the current.

I used your Electro-Vigor just six weeks and was cured of sciatica. From my experience with this treatment I consider it just the thing for any nervous derangement.

C. M. WITT, Groveland, Cal.

Your treatment has cured me of kidney trouble; my strength is returning and my general health is improved wonderfully. ROBERT REED, Parlier, Cal.

TRADES COUNCIL STOPS STATE CAPITOL REPAIRS
Union Men Called From Job Because Cutter Finishing Sandstone Does Not Belong to Organization.
SACRAMENTO, June 13.—At noon today all of the union men employed on the State Capitol were ordered to cease work in the repairs of the building on account of a controversy that has arisen between the Building Trades Council and the firm of Hayes & Condon, the contractors in charge of the brick and stone work.
These orders were issued in the morning by George W. Duffy, the agent of the Building Trades Council, who discovered that the sandstone that is used in the vestibule of the building was being cut by a non-union stone cutter in the employ of Carlow Bros., the firm furnishing the stone. It appears that the sandstone cutters, who are affiliated with the Building Trades Council of San Francisco, have been on a strike since last March in an attempt to obtain a raise, and to $6 per day, the strike originating in San Francisco.

LOOT SALOONS AND STATION DRAGGED BY CAR AND HURT
Some time between midnight and 1:30 o'clock this morning the Southern Pacific depot at Decoto and two saloons, one conducted by Frank Goulart, the other by Albert Silva, were broken into and a cash machine and a cash drawer in the Goulart saloon were broken open and $30 taken. From the cash machine and the electric piano $40 was stolen. The depot was ransacked but no money was found there. On all three instances windows were broken open admitting the robbers. At 1:30 o'clock this morning, two suspicious characters were seen at the depot but the robbers were not found until six o'clock this morning. Under Sheriff Hannifin and Deputy Sheriff Wales went to Decoto this morning but no clue to the robbery has been discovered. Tramps are blamed for the robberies.

EMPIRE THEATER IS SUCCESS FROM START
This place of amusement opened its doors to the public last evening under bright auspices, and if the future success of this theater depends upon the patronage shown by the attendance last night, then the Empire has come to stay. At two performances every seat in the spacious playhouse was occupied, and many people were unable to gain admittance. Numerous floral greetings were sent to the management, also many letters of commendation. The first performance was a success in every particular. The program in the night is of high quality, the patrons will undoubtedly be satisfied. The performances begin with an excellent comedy, "The Millionaire," which is a new and original production. The comedy is a masterpiece of the art, and the comedy is a masterpiece of the art, and the comedy is a masterpiece of the art.

The dispute led to blows and then a razor was drawn and Suiyu was wounded. His assailant escaped and the wounded man declares to the police that he does not know who the man is.
